

Amundsen Rescue Is Discredited As Ship Reports

Ice Breaker Rumored as Finding Explorer and Companions Silent on Subject by Radio.

MALMGREN DEATH TOLD IN DETAIL

Survivors Describe How Dying Companion Laid
Himself in Ice Grave and Said Farewell.

Moscow, July 15.—(AP)—The report received in Stockholm that Captain Roald Amundsen and Captain René Guilbaud have been rescued by the Russian ice breaker, Malign, was discredited in responsible quarters here today.

The Malign reported by wireless today that she was drifting 78.75 north longitude by 32.50 east latitude, unable to proceed because of heavy ice fields and thick fog.

RESCUE RUMOR FROM STOCKHOLM

Stockholm, July 15.—(AP)—The Stockholm Daablat received a report this morning that the Russian ice breaker Malign had rescued Captain Roald Amundsen and two others of the French seaplane at Latham, southwest King Charles land. The newspaper, however, could not confirm the report.

SURVIVORS TELL OF MALMGREN'S DEATH

Moscow, July 15.—(AP)—A graphic account of the tragedy that befell Finn Malmgren, noted Swedish meteorologist, including his burial alive in ice, is given in a radiogram to Tass Soviet news agency from Professor Samoilovich, head of the Russian relief expedition aboard the icebreaker Krassin. Captain Malmgren and Zappi, companions of the scientist, were rescued by the ship last week and are recuperating from their harrowing experience.

The three men left the main group of Italian survivors to try to find help and wandered aimlessly about in an icebound world until Dr. Malmgren could go no further. According to Professor Samoilovich's report for details as to how Malmgren died, Zappi said:

Suffered Privation.
"In our march landward we suffered untold privation. For days we drifted on floating ice. Several miles southeast of Island Brok Malmgren was unable to march on and told us to go ahead and take all the provisions. Before leaving Malmgren asked us to dig a grave in the ice and he lay down. Quietly he stretched out his hand bidding us adieu and handing his compass requesting us to give it to his mother.

"We plodded on slowly and in 24 hours were only 100 meters from Malmgren. We saw Malmgren raise his head. Hoping that driven by hunger, he would go on with us, we waited. Realizing this, Malmgren cried 'Go! Go at the price of my life, you'll save all!'

Continued on Page 12, Column 4.

THREE RIVER BOATS DESTROYED BY FIRE AT MEMPHIS, TENN.

Memphis, July 15.—(AP)—The Lee-Valley Line wharf boat, the steamer DeSoto and the gasoline launch Tiger, were destroyed by fire at their moorings late today, with an estimated loss of $100,000. The fire was believed to have been started from exhaust sparks of a gasoline pump in the wharfboat hold. It quickly spread to the other two boats. Kenneth Hill, a stepson of Captain Peters Lee, part owner of the line, was in the wharfboat office and was forced to leap from a window 30 feet above the water. He was picked up by a gasoline boat. The watchman on duty also leaped into the water.

Make This Resolution!

To Read Constitution Ads in Order to Obtain Highest Quality Merchandise at Prices Most to Your Advantage.

Advertising in The Constitution Pays the Advertiser and Saves the Buyer.

COLOMBIAN FLIER LANDS IN CAROLINA AFTER LOSING WAY

Was Flying Washington to Bogota; Lost for Hours, Damages Plane Landing.

Dillon, S. C., July 15.—(AP)—Lieutenant Camillo Daza, Colombian flier, landed at Dillon at 2:30 p. m. today. On his way to Bogota, Colombia, from Bolling field, Washington, he had expected to stop this morning at Fort Bragg, N. C., but lost his way and came down on the field at the Dillon fairgrounds.

The wings of Lieutenant Daza's plane were badly damaged when in landing he crashed into a fence around the field, the aviator himself was not injured. He planned to spend the night in Dillon and after examination of his plane, determine whether he will continue his flight or ship his plane to a suitable place for repairs.

LEFT WASHINGTON SUNDAY MORNING

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—Lieutenant Camillo Daza, Colombian aviator, hopped off from Bolling field at 10 o'clock this morning for a 1,000 mile flight to Bogota, Colombia.

Daza started to Bogota, Colombia, which he hoped to reach by easy stages. He planned to stop overnight at Pope field and to start tomorrow for Augusta, Ga.

The Colombian aviator, who delivered a letter here July 5 from President Mendez, of Colombia, addressed to President Coolidge, after a flight from New York, was flying a silver-colored biplane with a Jupiter 8-cylinder, air-cooled motor.

The lettering "W.D.X." was painted on the side of the lower wing and tail section had circles of dark blue, yellow and red on its silver background.

Liner Captain Dies as Giant Vessel Docks

Cunard Commodore, on His Final Voyage on Aquitania, Succumbs.

Southampton, July 15.—(AP)—Sir James Charles, commodore of the Cunard line since 1921, died today at the conclusion of what was to have been his last voyage on the Aquitania.

He was taken ill on the arrival of the Aquitania at Cherbourg and remained unconscious until death.

He would have retired at the conclusion of this trip, during which the crew had made him a present of a secretary and a chair.

Sir James had spent 50 years at sea and was one of the best known masters in the Atlantic service.

NINE ARE KILLED AS TRAINS CRASH AT MUNICH DEPOT

Munich, July 15.—(United News).—Nine persons were killed and 20 injured today when two express trains collided near the Munich Central station. Four cars caught fire and burned.

Police drew a cordon about the wreckage as the excited crowds sought friends and relatives.

Immediately following the shooting Garrison was carried to police headquarters, where Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole allowed him to make $2,000 bond, after learning that Sullivan was not thought to be fatally shot. Attaches at Grady hospital stated that the bullet entered just below the heart, shattering several ribs, but the belief was expressed that the wounded man would recover unless complications arise. His condition Sunday night was characterized as being "fair."

Heard Commotion.
"I was sitting in Garrison's office," Bentley told The Constitution Sunday, "when I heard a commotion in the corridor about twelve or fifteen feet from where I was working. I did not hear any conversation whatsoever, but I did hear several thumping sounds and a heavy thud, as if of a man's body falling. I dashed into the corridor and found Garrison lying on the floor. Sullivan was standing eight or ten feet away, and Garrison was attempting to get on his feet, when the former made a lunge at him, but grabbed his side and stumbled.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

WORLD PEACE DRAWN NEARER DURING WEEK

Fifteen Leading Nations
Now Ready To Sign Treaty Outlawing Aggressive War.

WAR CLOUDS HOVER IN EAST, HOWEVER

Assassination Adds to Tension in Balkan States and Poland and Lithuania Face Crisis.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, July 15.—(AP)—The most definite move toward world peace since Locarno, reflected this week in decisions by 15 leading nations to accept the Kellogg-Briand treaty against aggressive warfare, was marred by the flaring of old grudges in several war-breeding regions.

The anti-war pact is still far from final signature. Only three nations, Germany, France and Italy, have delivered their replies to Washington but for the first time since Foreign Minister Briand proposed a Franco-American friendship agreement and Secretary Kellogg countered suggesting a multi-lateral treaty outlawing war the end of long diplomatic negotiations seems in sight.

Germany's answer is known to be virtually a blanket acceptance of the pledge against aggressive war. France is believed to have similarly replied with the addition of some explanations by M. Briand, the foreign minister, as to his understanding of the pact.

Independent States.

England's approval awaits the end of consultations with the dominions. A notable fact is that the Irish Free State, India, Canada, New Zealand and Australia will act in the matter as sovereign states. In general the British attitude is expected to parallel that of France. Sir Austen Chamberlain's last word on the subject was to assure impatient labor members of parliament that the government would proceed with caution.

Rumania set the pace for her sister nations of the little entente with a cabinet declaration in favor of the pact. From Tokyo comes word that Japan will accept with one or two minor reservations. In general the developments of the week have assured government circles the lower wings of the pact.

In Europe and Asia the treaty has a special meaning for it is being hailed as making an end of America's aloofness from the world.

Secretary Kellogg's name is linked

Continued on Page 3, Column 4.

SECRETARY TO AID GARRISON DEFENSE

I. W. Bentley Declares
That Miss Stanfield Could Not Possibly Have Witnessed Shooting.

When H. C. Garrison, superintendent of the Atlanta Terminal station, comes to trial for shooting Patrick M. Sullivan, a draftsman for the state highway department, shortly after noon Saturday, following an altercation over Miss Louise M. Stanfield, 30-year-old divorcee who is employed in the superintendent's office, one of his chief witnesses will be his secretary, I. W. Bentley, of 1152 Sells avenue, was indicated Sunday.

Bentley says that he arrived on the scene just after Garrison had been struck by Sullivan, and that he witnessed the shooting. He also states that Miss Stanfield could not have seen the shooting, as Garrison claims to have done in her statement to the police.

Immediately following the shooting Garrison was carried to police headquarters, where Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole allowed him to make $2,000 bond, after learning that Sullivan was not thought to be fatally shot. Attaches at Grady hospital stated that the bullet entered just below the heart, shattering several ribs, but the belief was expressed that the wounded man would recover unless complications arise. His condition Sunday night was characterized as being "fair."

Heard Commotion.
"I was sitting in Garrison's office," Bentley told The Constitution Sunday, "when I heard a commotion in the corridor about twelve or fifteen feet from where I was working. I did not hear any conversation whatsoever, but I did hear several thumping sounds and a heavy thud, as if of a man's body falling. I dashed into the corridor and found Garrison lying on the floor. Sullivan was standing eight or ten feet away, and Garrison was attempting to get on his feet, when the former made a lunge at him, but grabbed his side and stumbled.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Highest Military Honors To Mark Carranza Rites

AUGUSTA SPINSTER IS SHOT TO DEATH IN FAMILY AFFRAY

19-Year-Old Youth Held;
Father and Daughter Wounded in Exchange of Shots.

Augusta, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—

Wounds of a shotgun and not a pistol bullet brought death to Miss Jessie Oliver, 62, in a shooting affray last night at the home of her brother, Frank Oliver, himself wounded, the coroner announced tonight, after an autopsy on the body.

Irvine Cato, 19, was held in jail here pending the verdict of the coroner's jury tomorrow.

Miss Oliver was slain during an affray between her brother, J. H. Cato, 42, the boy's father, and the boy. Both Cato and his 15-year-old brother, Irvine, were wounded by the bullet.

The trouble was said to have arisen during an argument between Oliver and Cato, a share-cropper on his plantation, as to whether the lot gate should be locked, preventing the Catos from free use of livestock.

When the argument arose, Miss Oliver was said to have brought her brother a pistol from the house. When Cato fired, the bullet struck Oliver in the chest.

The autopsy today, physicians said, revealed that one of the birdshot from the gun in the hands of young Cato had penetrated one eye and entered the brain, causing her death. Oliver was last night was believed fatally wounded, tonight was said to have a good chance of recovery.

Oliver today said that his sister was standing directly in front of him when Cato fired, and that he saw the bullet enter her chest.

The elder Cato and his daughter suffered flesh wounds.

FLOGGING TRIALS TO START TODAY AT MILLEDGEVILLE

Milledgeville, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—Charges of assault with intent to murder in connection with the flogging trial will be heard today in the case of the three men who were arrested in the case of the flogging trial.

The three men will claim an alibi, it is understood, as they state they can prove their whereabouts at the time the flogging is said to have taken place.

Hubbard and Angles are said to have had a dispute over a recent election, when the district in which the Smith farm had occurred between Smith and Angles, it is reported, while Hubbard and Angles are said to have had a dispute over distilling and selling whisky.

Girl Anaemia Victim Dies Despite Friend's Sacrifice

BLOOD TRANSFUSION ATTEMPT IS FAILURE

Despite the sacrifice of a girl friend, the best efforts of doctors and the constant care of relatives, death claimed Miss Grady Mae Starks early Sunday morning as she lay in Grady hospital exhausted from her ten-day fight for life.

The end came quietly for the pretty 16-year-old girl, with her mother, an aunt and a brother and sister at the bedside hoping against hope that somehow their loved one might find strength to fight out for a little longer the perilous anaemia which had steadily weakened her since she entered the hospital on July 4.

Her death was rendered doubly tragic by the fact that it is thought by doctors that a blood transfusion several days ago might have saved the girl's life, but up until Friday no one whose blood was believed to be found. On that day, in response to an appeal published in The Constitution, Miss Lucille Yancy, a chum of the stricken girl, appeared at the hospital and a test showed her blood to be satisfactory. An attempt at transfusion could not be made until Saturday morning, and then, her condition was found to be too far advanced.

With her last chance for life gone the girl struggled feebly against the inevitable until about 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning, and then, her strength exhausted by her efforts, quietly died as her relatives stood helplessly by.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Greatest Funeral Ceremonial in New York History Planned When Flier's Body Leaves.

MEXICO TO GIVE GENERAL'S FUNERAL

War Department Re-sinds Posthumous Generalship; To Place Slab
Where Aviator Took Off

New York, July 15.—(United News).—The body of Captain Emilio Carranza, of Mexico, lay in state tonight in a little flower-banked chapel on upper Broadway.

All afternoon, while a warm sun baked the sidewalks, crowds of women and men waited outside the funeral church for an opportunity to pay a few moments silent tribute before the flag-draped casket of a sister nation's greatest aviator.

The greatest military funeral cortege and ceremonial that New York City has ever seen will escort the body Wednesday when it is taken to the special train en route to Mexico City via Laredo, Texas. West Point cadets will command the six-horse field artillery caisson on which the casket will be carried.

A long line of persons eager to pay tribute to the career of Mexico's young aviator hero gathered before the funeral church early this morning. Despite the discomfort of the burning sun, they stood in line for nearly an hour waiting their turn to enter the chapel. By mid-afternoon the line extended for nearly a block and more and more persons joined the throng.

Silently they entered the funeral church, climbed three flights of narrow stairs and entered a small candle-lit chapel. The casket, across which had been spread the flags of Carranza's nation and the nation in which he met his death when his monoplane fell during a severe electrical storm, was nearly hidden behind the lavish floral offerings presented by high officials of American government.

Beside the casket stood two of the fallen hero's countrymen, their bodies rigidly at attention, their faces electric blue in the dim light.

One of the most prominent floral offerings was a model airplane similar in design to the silver-hued craft in which Carranza was attempting to make a non-stop flight to his native country when he was killed. It was a creation of blood-red and white flowers woven together in an attractive piece about four feet long, resting along on a table opposite the casket and a card attached to the tiny silver propeller bore a Spanish message and the signature, "Patrono Carranza, president of the republic of Mexico."

Major General Manson E. Ely, commanding the second coast artillery, in charge of arrangements, announced today a body of troops estimated at 10,000 men would join in the ceremonies Wednesday. Representatives of the city and other groups will participate.

A full funeral escort, including all the regular units in the metropolitan area, a naval detachment, all national guard troops of New York and New Jersey and reserve officers, will accompany the body to its special train. Governor Smith, New York, and Governor Moore, of New Jersey, will be present.

The train, circled by a squadron of army airplanes, will depart about 3 p. m. Wednesday, according to company arrangements. At Laredo.

Continued on Page 3, Column 4.

FRANCE, ITALY FULLY ACCEPT ANTI-WAR PACT

Replies of Two Powers to Revised Kellogg Peace Treaty Are Made Public in Washington.

ANSWERS PLEASING TO U. S. OFFICIALS

Premier Mussolini Speaks for Italy in Few Words; Briand Replies for France.

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—Unqualified acceptance of Italy and France of Secretary Kellogg's treaty for the renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy, the preamble of which was revised and resubmitted to 14 principal nations on June 23 were made public tonight by the state department.

American government officials, while refusing comment on the replies, indicated their gratification over the attitude of the two European governments toward the new pact. Germany already has accepted with out reservation and unofficial information indicates Great Britain will present a favorable reply this week.

Premier Mussolini's acceptance for Italy was brief, dated today, it said:

"The royal government, which has attentively examined the last draft of a treaty for the elimination of war proposed by the United States, takes note of and agrees with the interpretation of the said treaty which the government of the United States set forth in the note of June 23 last and on this premise declares that it is disposed to proceed to the signature thereof."

Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, in his note dated July 14, said: "It follows from the new preamble that the proposed treaty includes aims at the perpetuation of the pacific and friendly relations under the contractual conditions in which they are today established between the interested nations; that it is essentially a question for the signatory powers of renouncing their own national interests, should be denied the benefits of the treaty."

M. Briand said France was happy to accept the treaty in accordance with these new stipulations and to take note of the interpretations Secretary Kellogg had given to the new treaty in his note of June 23, with a view to satisfying the various objections.

Continued on Page 3, Column 4.

CARRANZA TRAIN MAY STOP HERE

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Ex- changes Telegrams With Manuel C. Telez, Am- bassador From Mexico.

Telegrams expressing sorrow of Atlanta over the tragic death of Captain Carranza recently were sent Sunday by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale to Consul General Elias, of Mexico, at New York City and Ambassador Telez, of Mexico at Washington. Mayor Ragsdale also proffered every courtesy, should it be decided to route the funeral cortege by way of Atlanta.

In return a telegram was received from Ambassador Telez, in which he expressed his thanks and the hope he would be in Atlanta Sunday for the scheduled stop of the special train which will leave New York for Mexico, following funeral services in New York city Wednesday. The ambassador's telegram follows:

"I pray accept for yourself and the citizens of your city our expression of deep appreciation for your genuine sympathy on the occasion of our bereavement by the death of our young aviator, Captain Carranza. And be sure that nothing will be more dear to the Mexican people than that sympathy which never had they seen such a response to an appeal for aid, and that many of those who answered had never known Miss Starks nor her family. In all, more than fifty persons were tested before Miss Yancy was selected.

The body was removed to Hapeville by Brandon & Williams, undertakers, who will be in charge of funeral services which will be held at the Riverdale Baptist church at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Jail Postmaster In Mississippi Patronage Probe

GOVERNOR SMITH GIVES NO HINKLING OF FUTURE PLANS

Apparently Intends To Rest on His Counter Attack To Assault of Kansas Editor.

Albany, N. Y., July 15.—(AP)—For the present at least Governor Smith apparently intends to rest on his counter attack to the assault of William Allen White, on his legislative record. The democratic presidential nominee made no further comment today regarding either the Kansas editor or the Rev. C. R. Miller, superintendent of the New York Civic league, who he charged, furnished White false information on which he based his attack.

Even the denial from the Kansas editor that he had received any information from Miller and a new assault from White on Smith's prohibition stand, and his connection with Tammany hall failed to move the governor to open up again on his critics.

While the incident, from Governor Smith's standpoint, appeared closed his friends expect that during the campaign he will seize an opportunity to strike back at those who accuse him of having favored the liquor interests and opposed bills to suppress gambling and commercialized vice while in the New York legislature as White said in a speech Thursday night.

As for the nominee himself, he is giving no inkling of his plans in this respect or any other phase of the campaign. He tells inquirers that he has no plans, not even for the immediate future.

For the present the governor is expected to remain in Albany, although he may get away for a brief vacation before opening his campaign.

Young 'Poet With Soul' Arrives Here

Judy Rayford Reaches Atlanta on Way to Meet Borglum.

Faced with a golden opportunity, undreamed of a week ago, Judy Rayford, 20-year-old Mobile artist, poet, collegian and traveler of the dusty ways "bumped into Atlanta Sunday on his way to Durham, N. C., where he hopes to meet Gutzon Borglum, the famous sculptor, who has described the young poet-artist as "the youth with a poetic soul," and wishes to make him a protégé.

"There just must be a catch in it somewhere," the youth said as he told his story in The Constitution offices Sunday night—a tale of years of hardship and struggle toward an artistic career capped by this climax of unlooked-for good fortune.

The first inkling of his good luck came to Judy on Friday the thirteenth, as he sat in his home at Mobile and saw in a newspaper a story to the effect that Borglum was searching for a boy-artist, whose name he did not remember.

"Mother, I'm the boy Mr. Borglum is looking for!" Rayford exclaimed as he saw the newspaper, and it has since developed that he is the one whose work impressed the sculptor when Rayford visited him in San Antonio some months ago. Sending a telegram to Borglum stating that he would be in Durham as soon as possible the boy set out at once.

Rayford explained that last April, while a student at Duke university, he learned that Borglum was in San Antonio, and always having been anxious to meet him he set out for the Texas city. Undaunted by a lack of funds he "bummed" and arrived at his destination in 12 days after several stop-overs.

For two days he tried to get an audience with Borglum, but was unsuccessful. At last he met him for a few minutes and told him that he wanted to be a sculptor. Borglum asked if he had done modeling and Rayford told him he had not. Asked if he did any sort of artistic work, the lad proffered some of his poems and some sketches which Borglum accepted, but did not look over at once as he was too busy.

Judy remained in the city for two days longer and the great sculptor was kind to him, but showed no particular interest in the boy's artistic possibilities, beyond saying that he would give him a job in two or three years.

So, broke and faced with the necessity of working, the boy quietly left the city thinking that Borglum had abandoned him and his dream of a career in art.

Working and sketching in his spare time since that visit Rayford had nearly forgotten the incident when he was startled by the news that the great carver of stone was searching for him.

Born 20 years ago in Mobile Judy Rayford went to school a last year until a year ago when he entered

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Third Man Arrested
Since Grand Jury Delved
Into G. O. P. Handling of Jobs.

JURY TO CONTINUE ITS EFFORTS TODAY

Expect Speedy Trials for Defendants; Other Arrests Are Expected Early Monday.

Biloxi, Miss., July 15.—(AP)—William E. Miller, postmaster at Wiggins, Miss., was arrested today on a warrant based upon an indictment returned last Friday by the federal grand jury investigating unlawful acts in connection with patronage in Mississippi.

Miller was taken to the Harrison county jail at Gulfport, and probably will be returned here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning for arraignment before Judge Edwin R. Holmes, with Ed L. Patton, negro political leader of Jackson, Miss., and J. C. Tannehill, of Sunnall, Miss., former deputy United States marshal, both of whom were arrested at Jackson yesterday by Deputy Marshal James Schneider.

All three men were charged with violation of the federal act of December 1, 1926, prohibiting buying and selling of public offices, and also with conspiracy under the general federal statute covering that offense.

Miller, after his arrest here this morning, was said to have made a comprehensive statement to federal officers concerning the method by which he gained his appointment to the Wiggins postmastership, but details of the alleged confession were not obtainable today.

Judge Holmes will reconvene federal district court here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and the grand jury will proceed with its investigation. Miller, McGilchrist, of Washington, special prosecutor for the department of justice, will head the group of attorneys working on the patronage case, following the departure at 12:30 o'clock this morning of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, who had spent four days on the investigation here.

Mrs. Willebrandt, after a few days work in the national capital, said she would proceed to Chicago and then fly by mail plane to San Francisco where she will speak before the annual meeting of the American Bar association in session during the week beginning July 23.

Associated with Mr. McGilchrist will be District Attorney E. E. Hindman, of Jackson, and Assistant District Attorneys H. Cassey Hindman and Niles Mosley.

The United States attorney probably will ask for a speedy trial of defendants indicted during the present investigation, it was believed from a study of their tactics during the last few days.

The jury probably will conclude its inquiry late this week, and it was believed the government would file for trial at the present special term of all cases growing from the patronage probe.

It was understood that the jury would return no more indictments until the close of its inquiry, and then would turn in a "batch" of indictments. Defendants on one indictment, returned yesterday afternoon had not been arrested, it was said. The true bill was presumed to cover more than one person, because of officials' references to "them," instead of "him." Arrests were expected tonight or tomorrow morning, probably in the central portion of the state.

It was understood that the jury would return no more indictments until the close of its inquiry, and then would turn in a "batch" of indictments. Defendants on one indictment, returned yesterday afternoon had not been arrested, it was said. The true bill was presumed to cover more than one person, because of officials' references to "them," instead of "him." Arrests were expected tonight or tomorrow morning, probably in the central portion of the state.

WOMAN IS KILLED, HUSBAND INJURED IN ALABAMA CRASH

Montgomery, Ala., July 15.—(AP)—Mrs. L. W. Haines, 28, of Montgomery, was instantly killed and her husband dangerously injured when an automobile in which they were riding, overturned today on the Pine Level-Montgomery highway about 13 miles south of this city.

Mr. Haines was brought to a local hospital. Physicians stated that he probably has a fractured skull.

The Weather
PARTLY CLOUDY.

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—Forecast: Georgia—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday, probably scattered thunder showers in south and central portions.

North Carolina and Virginia—Mostly fair Monday and Tuesday; little change in temperature.

South Carolina—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday, probably scattered thunder showers in south and central portions.

Florida—Local thunder showers Monday and Tuesday.

CROSSING FATALITIES REDUCED DURING 1927

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—Long reiteration of "stop, look, listen," has apparently begun to have some effect. The number of persons killed in grade crossing accidents in 1927, as compared with 1926, declined four per cent, the American Railway association announced today, in spite of the fact that there was an increase of five per cent in the number of automobiles in use, and an increase of 10 per cent in the number of fatalities due to accidents on highways. Persons killed in highway grade-crossing accidents in 1927 numbered 1,974, while there were 2,064 in 1926. The report showed 23,497 fatalities on highways last year and 21,431 in 1926. There was one fatality for each 11,716 automobiles at grade crossings and one for each 984 on the highways in 1927.

Welcomed by N. Y. Bands, "INTERNATIONAL MYSTERY MAN" BEHIND BARS Arrested in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, July 15.—(AP)—Capture of the "international mystery man," who was welcomed as a guest of honor in New York city with special bands and welcoming committees when he arrived there in December, 1927, as the special envoy of the Egyptian government was claimed today by department of justice agents following their arrest last night of Samuel S. Spiegel. The asserted Egyptian envoy was arrested on specific charges of impersonating department of state representatives and of issuing false checks and spurious credentials. He was held pending further instructions from Washington, whence came orders for his arrest, on the possibility of his being faced with immigration charges and deportation. Spiegel, who is said to have operated under a score of aliases, arrived in San Francisco last month with an official welcome accompanied by military bands, after having been feted in many New York, Connecticut and Illinois cities, through which the federal agents said he had left a trail of bad checks, mostly drawn on a Cairo, Egypt, bank. All of the "foreign guests' passports and credentials were believed to be false by Washington and local federal officers. The federal agents reported that Spiegel asserted part of his duty was to learn something of the inside operations of the motion picture industry and that it was there that he was "making his major financial killing." He was alleged to have been negotiating a $3,000 a week movie contract for a two-months period when arrested, and officers said that he had left many bad checks in many of the large movie studios. Intimidation was made that several prominent movie stars had been victimized to the extent of many thousands of dollars. An admission to his jailers that he realized he was in a "deuce of a fix" was the only comment that could be obtained from Spiegel, police said.

"POET WITH SOUL" ARRIVES IN CITY

Continued from First Page.

Duke university. He went to high school there and at one time worked in the mailing room of The Mobile Register "stuffing" papers to get enough money to take lessons in modeling, but found, after a few lessons, that he could not earn enough money to go on so was forced to give up his desire to model and turned his attention to drawing and writing. In his sketching he was more fortunate for Edmond de Celles, Mobile artist, took an interest in the youth and gave him instruction free of charge as well as giving him some work to do. Rayford credits de Celles with all that he has learned of art. Going to the university, Rayford turned his artistic ability to profit by painting scenery for stages while he attended school and sometimes became so interested in his painting that he neglected his classes for days. But always, the boy says, as he painted or sketched or wrote there has been the desire to work in stone, to model and to make things of beauty in solid beautiful marble. It was this desire that drew him to San Antonio to the side of the great Borglum and now that his chance to work and study under the maestro he is afraid that there must be a "rest" but is hurrying to Durham, hoping that there is not and that his dreams are really to be realized.

SECRETARY TO AID GARRISON DEFENSE

Continued from First Page.

bled down the corridor. Someone carried him into the office of T. D. Phillips, chief engineer at the Terminal, and, after calling an ambulance, I ran back to find Garrison, who was badly bruised about the face, and bleeding profusely at the mouth. "How did it happen?" I asked; but, at first, he disregarded my question, and then said, "It was a terrible blow that fellow gave me." "Garrison then gave this version of the affray to me: 'Well, he (Sullivan) stopped me in the corridor and said, "you're abusing Miss Stanfield in your office." I told him that I certainly was not, but I had reprimanded Miss Stanfield for overstaying her lunch hour. Sullivan called me a liar and said that he had had enough of my foolishness. With that he struck me several times. The rest you know.' Asked if there were other witnesses to the shooting, Bentley said he thought that Frank Lumkin, assistant chief of construction at the terminal, came out of another door into the corridor about the same time he did. "But I don't know for sure whether or not he actually saw Mr. Garrison shoot," he continued.

Denies Girl Was Present. When told of the report that Miss Stanfield had been an eyewitness to the shooting, Bentley said that "she could not have possibly seen it." "Why, she said afterward that she was in the railway mail service office, and from that point it would have been impossible." When shown Miss Stanfield's statement to the press regarding Garrison having paid her unwelcome attention, Bentley said: "Well, that's something I don't know anything about, but during my two years in his office I have never known Mr. Garrison to make advances to her. So far as I have observed, he has always accorded her the same courteous treatment that has been accorded the rest of us."

Statement by Girl. Miss Stanfield's sworn statement to police Saturday follows: "Between 12:30 and 1 o'clock I was seated at my desk at Terminal station, where I am employed as a clerk in the superintendent's office, when I saw Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Garrison out in the hall talking.

"I got up from my desk and went out in the hall where they were. When I got there I saw Mr. Sullivan fall. Then Mr. Sullivan got up and knocked Mr. Garrison down. Then Mr. Garrison got up and pulled a gun from his pocket and shot Mr. Sullivan. "People rushed out of their offices and took Mr. Sullivan into an office and called an ambulance. I was carried into another office.

"Mr. Sullivan and I have been friends four years. Mr. Garrison has been trying to pay me attentions for four or five years. I have ignored him all this time."

Garrison, who lives at 1005 Crescent circle, told The Constitution Saturday night that he was "only in self-defense," and could think of no reason why Sullivan should attack him.

Garrison, 57 years old, was born in Gillesville, Ga. and for the past 40 years he has been connected with rail-

FATHER KILLS SON AFTER ARGUMENT ON KILLING DOG

Pauls Valley, Okla., July 15.—(AP) W. H. Paul, night watchman here, shot and killed his son, W. H. Paul, Jr., in an argument over the killing of a dog at the family home here today. The younger Paul, a former state game warden and a farmer, was a brother of Homer Paul, democratic state representatives from Garvin county who is seeking re-election. The father surrendered to police immediately after the shooting and was held in the city jail. He said the shooting was accidental.

Bus Fatalities.

Pittsburgh, July 15.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and 15 injured when a large picnic bus plunged down a steep embankment at Wildwood Grove near here tonight.

Air Freight Tonnage

Cleveland, July 15.—(AP)—Airplanes clearing the Cleveland airport

now carry an average of 465,000 pounds of freight a month, Major John Berry, field commandant, reports.

REPLACING COSMETICS WITH Natural Loveliness

Underneath powder and rouge lies a radiant skin. Cleanse with palm and olive oils THIS WAY to find it

THE American girl's complexion is the wonder of foreigners on our shores. The average American girl with her fresh, radiant skin would rate as a raving beauty in many foreign countries. And that is because she knows the value of natural loveliness. Because she has discarded the artificialities that once threatened our national beauty. She knows the value of "that schoolgirl complexion." It is really very simple, if you will only try it for a week. Just do this nightly. Wash the face gently with the soothing lather of Palmolive Soap. With your two hands massage its unguent oils into the pores, gently freeing the day's accumulation of make-up and soil. Then rinse, first with warm, then cold water. Dry with gently patting with a soft towel. Add a dash of good cold cream if dryness threatens, that is all. Get genuine Palmolive, that is the important thing. Substitutes are never "just as good." The Palmolive-Pet Company, Chicago, Illinois.

Your Eyes Examined and Glasses Fitted Complete as Low as $5.00

DR. JOHN KAHN
Registered Optometrist
Your eyes examined by the most modern and scientific methods known (no drugs)
All Lenses Ground to Order and Doctors' Prescriptions Filled at Lowest Prices
J.M. HIGH CO.
Optical Dept., St. Floor, Near Shoe Dept.

Congratulations
And Best Wishes
To The Publix Theatre HOWARD Publix Theatre on their Semi-Anniversary

ROGERS
INC.

165 Pure Food Stores in Atlanta
90 Bright Clean Markets in Atlanta

Jell-O Ice Cream
POWDERS
Lemon—Vanilla Strawberry

3 Pkgs. 25c
Old Dutch CLEANSER
3 Cans 19c

SOME MONDAY MORNING NEEDS
Star Naphtha
Washing Powder 3 Pkgs. 11c

Parsons Household
Ammonia 25c Size 15c
Octagon Soap 2 Special Size Bars 9c

Octagon
Washing Powders 2 Pkgs. 9c
Bring Your Octagon Coupons To Our Stores!

Georgia Water-Ground
REX MEAL
6 Lb. 27c 12 Lb. 49c

Del Monte PEAS No. 2 21c
Very Small
Freemont PEAS No. 2 17c
Very Small
No. 1 Can, 15c

Firm Fat Mackerel
A Dandy 10 to 16 Oz. 15c
Breakfast Dish Each

Del Monte Spinach No. 2 21c
Can

Georgia Bell
Turnip Greens No. 2 18c
Can

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT for the six months ending June 30, 1928, of the condition of the Benefit Association of Railway Employees OF CHICAGO

organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance to the laws of said State.

Principal Office—801 Montrose Ave., Chicago, Ill.

I. CAPITAL STOCK. None.

II. ASSETS.

Assets of Company (actual cash market value).....$1,576,622.40

III. LIABILITIES.

Total Liabilities.....$330,422.50

IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1928.

Total Income.....$1,337,629.37

V. DISBURSEMENTS DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1928.

Total Disbursements.....$1,250,057.63

A copy of the Act of Incorporation, duly certified, is in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF ILLINOIS—COUNTY OF COOK.

Personally appeared before the undersigned, G. M. Culver, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Secretary of Benefit Association of Railway Employees, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

G. M. CULVER.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 12th day of July, 1928.

(Seal) A. E. ROEDER, Notary Public.

My commission expires April 17, 1932.

CHATTANOOGA

$3.50
Round Trip

Saturday, July 21st
Good returning until Monday, July 23rd

Leave Atlanta
7:15 A. M.—7:20 A. M.
2:30 P. M.—6:00 P. M.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY

City Ticket Office
48 North Broad St.

Telephones WALnut 1961-1962

Make the most of every garment

Do you find that you're spending too much money on clothes? Try this way to economize—

Get real wear from your clothes. Secure the greatest service from each garment—by using this dependable dry cleaning.

It will pay in the long run to let one of these laundries keep your clothes in trim.

IN three ways you are assured of the renewal service you need.

1—EXQUISITE CLEANSING. In this service you find first of all the ability to renew your clothes—take them when they are soiled, crumpled, perhaps stained, and bring them back dainty, fresh and good-looking once more.

2—SAFETY FOR EVERY ARTICLE. You have the assurance that your clothes are safe—that the most delicate materials will be handled carefully, that their life will actually be prolonged by this careful cleansing.

3—PROMPT DELIVERY—AND A COURTEOUS ROUTE. MAN TO COOPERATE WITH YOU. It means so much to you that you can count on quick service—getting back each garment at the time you expect it. These laundries have made the delivery service a special help to you in caring for your clothes. Each routeman is experienced in dry cleaning problems. He is glad to advise on how the different garments can best be handled. He will repeat to the experts at the plant any special message you give on how you want an article cleaned.

May's Laundry
HEmlock 5-3-0-0

Trio Laundry
IVy 1-6-0-0

Decatur Laundry
DEarborn 3-1-6-2

Peerless Laundry
WALnut 4-4-0-5

Troy Laundry
WALnut 4-9-0-8

Excelsior Laundry
WALnut 2-4-5-4

Piedmont Laundry
WALnut 7-6-5-1

American Laundry
MAin 1-0-1-6

Guthman Laundry
WALnut 8-6-6-1

Capital City Laundry
WALnut 7-1-2-1

Iowa Tornadoes.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 15.—Iowa has been visited by an average of ten tornadoes a year for the last ten years, says the state weather and crop bureau, but most of them were insignificant.

Mothers Everywhere Have Turned with Relief to This New Candy

Hundreds of Atlanta mothers have solved the vexing candy question. They give the children Dextrons, with perfect confidence. For Dextrons are a new kind of candy that is good for even the most delicate child.

Your physician will tell you why Dextrons, of which Dextrons are made, is body-building, and healthful for your children. It is more digestible than Lactose (the sugar of milk) and is combined with pure flavors—to make these delicious lollypops.

Give plenty of Dextrons to your children... they can do no harm. Dextrons are a thoroughly delightful food that children love—and that solve Mother's problem, once and for all. DEXTRON COMPANY, ATLANTA.

DEXTRONS
The Candy Doctors Approve for Children
Package of 12 for 25c wherever Candy is sold

Mediterranean on the world-famous Express of Scotland From sunny Spain to mysterious Algiers... from gay Riviera to fascinating temples of the past... as honored
New York cruise-guests of the world's greatest travel system. 16 countries.
72 days. $900 and up.
Now's the time to secure choice space.

Cruise
Phone or write for details to
2. G. CHERBOUR
Gen. Agent Pac. Dept., Canadian Pacific Railway, Suite 1017 Healy Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Telephone Walnut 2217, or Any Local Steamship Agent.

Canadian Pacific
One Management Ship and Shore

Mrs. Blosser Becomes Bride
Of J. C. Moseley

Mrs. Clarence Blosser and George Carrington Moseley were married Saturday afternoon, July 14, at 4 o'clock at Mrs. Blosser's home on Myrtle street in the presence of close friends and relatives. Rev. L. R. Christie performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Blosser's two youngest daughters, Margaret and Eloise Blosser, acted as flower girls and were the only attendants. They wore dainty peach colored chiffon frocks and carried old-fashioned bouquets.

Mrs. Blosser wore a handsome afternoon gown of peach colored chiffon and lace. The home was beautifully decorated with pink and white gladioli and roses.

Following the ceremony Alexander Gifford sang "Because," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John Nelson. Mrs. Blosser was formerly Miss Eleanor Woodward, of New Orleans, daughter of Professor and Mrs. William Woodward. She is the president of the Blosser company, having succeeded her husband several years ago.

Mr. Moseley was formerly of Lynchburg, Va., and is the son of Rev. B. W. Moseley.

Mr. Moseley has been connected with several private schools in Virginia and is now doing educational work here.

West End Junior Club
Sponsors Dance Tomorrow

The West End Junior Woman's club will sponsor a dance Tuesday evening, July 17, from 9 to 12 o'clock at the clubhouse. Admission will be one dollar, and excellent music will be furnished. The Junior club will be assisted by Mrs. Chester W. Johnson, president of the Senior club, and senior members will be the chaperons. All the young people are invited to attend.

Mr. Newell To Speak To Woman's Division.

The Woman's Division Chamber of Commerce monthly dinner meeting takes place Monday evening, July 16, at 6:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce cafe dining room. Alfred C. Newell, national counselor of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and past president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce is to speak.

GIRL CONFESSES MURDER PLOT
ON STEPFATHER

Bismarck, Mo., July 15.—(P)—Miss Ada Biggs, 19-year-old high school graduate, confessed today that she had shot and killed her stepfather, William Silas Simpson, 51, a garage owner, by firing through the window of their home last night.

Miss Biggs, who was graduated this spring from the Bismarck high school, said that she and her mother and her uncle, Oscar Greenwald, had planned to elope with Simpson to "bring peace into the family."

Greenwald, who was arrested this morning and taken to the county jail at Farmington, confessed the plot to authorities. Confronted with Greenwald's statement his sister, Mrs. Simpson, also confessed.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

BACK IN THE DEAR OLD BRIAR PATCH

By Thornton W. Burgess.

This much to me is very clear: Obedience is gained through fear.

—Peter Rabbit.

Whitey, Peter Rabbit's white-coated little son, left the Woodchuck's hole in which he had been hiding and at once started for the dear old Briar-patch, as soon as he had heard his mother thump. It was a long run, but he wasted no time. What was happening to his mother, and why she didn't come with him, he didn't know. You see, he knew nothing about the presence of Reddy Fox on the Green Meadows. He hadn't the least idea that his mother was running for her life, so that he might get in safety to the dear old Briar-patch.

At last Whitey reached the dear old Briar-patch, and with a sigh of relief and thankfulness dived into one of Peter Rabbit's private little paths.

(Copyright, 1925, for The Constitution.)

The next story: "Peter Is Startled."

HIGHEST MILITARY
RITES FOR AVIATOR

Continued from First Page.

the body will be escorted to the center of the international bridge when the official Mexican escort will take charge. The train is expected to pass through San Antonio, Texas, about 5 p. m. Friday, General Ely said.

MEXICO RESCINDS GENERALSHIP.

Mexico City, July 15.—(P)—The war department rescinded its order bestowing posthumously the grade of general of division upon Captain Emilio Carranza, who was killed in an attempt to fly from Mexico to Mexico City.

The announcement was given the newspapers by the department yesterday, but later differences of opinion developed in the department itself and it was stated today that it now was considered inadvisable to raise officially the flying ace to the highest rank in the army.

On the other hand it was said that the national funeral honors will be accorded Carranza would be all that any general could have. The body will rest in state in the war department after its arrival in Mexico City for a day or more. Then with President Calles, Secretary of War Amaro, and other high officials and members of the cabinet following there will be a funeral procession to Mexico's "field of illustrious dead," where the body will be buried with the highest solemnities.

The government has announced that it will place a slab to Carranza's memory on the grounds of the flying field where the aviator hopped off on his flight to Washington.

President-elect Obregon's intention to avoid any demerit upon his return to the capital from Sonora to many, was swept aside by the crowd of many thousands who had gathered to elect the president-elect. Obregon supporters declared that the demonstration for the general should not be considered as a lack of observance of the period of mourning for the dead aviator as it was not a social affair, but an outpouring of the people which could not be checked.

FRANCE AND ITALY
ACCEPT PEACE PACT

Continued from First Page.

which had been formulated from the French point of view.

Giving a resume of these interpretations, M. Briand continued: "Thanks to the clarification given by the new preamble and thanks moreover to the interpretations given to the treaty, the government of the republic congratulates itself that the new convention is compatible with the obligations of existing treaties to which France is otherwise a contracting party and the integral respect of which is necessarily imperatively imposed upon her by good faith and loyalty."

"In this situation and under these circumstances, the government of the republic is happy to be able to declare to the government of the United States that it is now entirely disposed to sign any treaty as proposed by the letter of your excellency of June 23, 1925."

"At the moment of this assuring its contribution to the realization of the long matured project, all the moral significance of which it has gauged from the beginning, the government of the republic desires to render homage to the generous spirit in which the government of the United States has received this new manifestation of human fraternity which eminently conforms to the profound aspirations of the French people as well as of the American people and responds to the sentiment more and more widely shared among peoples of international solidarity."

WEEK SEES PEACE OF WORLD NEARING

Continued from First Page.

with another diplomatic victory of the week, the decision by Peru and Chile to resume diplomatic relations and attempt a friendly settlement of the powder-laden dispute over Tacna and Arica.

Against this impressive array on the side of peace the Balkans cast a dark shadow. Assassination has been added to the internal troubles of Bulgaria and Jugoslavia. When General Plevchich, head of the Macedonian revolutionary committee, was shot down in the streets of Sofia, for refusing to disturb the good relations between Bulgaria and Jugoslavia, officials expected some kind of reprisal in Jugoslavia and they were not disappointed.

M. Lazitch, head of the Jugo-Slav state police and selected to be minister of the interior in the new dictatorship cabinet of General Hadzich, was shot by a Macedonian patriot but escaped with a severe head wound.

War Clouds.

Coupled with the growing strength of the Croatian independence movement, the general political situation affecting Jugo-Slavia, Bulgaria and the fiery Macedonian revolutionary element in both countries, has rarely given less promise of peace.

Austro-Italian peace overtures received a violent check when Rome dedicated a victory monument at Bolzano on the Austrian frontier with an inscription and speeches which revived the flame of Austrian resentment against Premier Mussolini.

Leaders of the south Tyrolean minority were aroused to a dangerous pitch and the Italian police were forced virtually to close the frontier and forbid public demonstrations.

A third source of conflict reappeared on the scene when Poland presented to the League of Nations the text of Lithuania's latest proposition for the settlement of the Vilna dispute. Lithuania has demanded that the Vilna area be declared "disputed territory" and that Poland pay an indemnity of several millions of dollars for damages suffered in the Polish occupation of the city.

The Lithuanian government says these demands make peace between the two countries impossible.

NEW LIEUTENANT POPULAR MEMBER OF POLICE FORCE

Lieutenant J. W. McWilliams, Jr., recently promoted to fill the vacancy created by the death of Lieutenant T. D. Shaw, has been connected with the Atlanta police department for 19 years.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

NEGRO BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MEET

Negro State S. S. & B. Y. P. U. workers will meet Tuesday, for a four day session at the Wheat Street Baptist church on Auburn avenue, Rev. P. J. Bryant pastor. Rev. J. H. Evans, of Macon, is president and Dr. P. J. Bryant is president of the B. Y. P. U. department.

L. D. Newton, editor Christian Index, will speak Tuesday on "Where Do You Live?" Other speakers will be Rev. J. H. Gadsden, of Macon; Rev. J. T. Johnson, of Atlanta; Rev. S. D. Ross, of Savannah; W. L. Hughes, of Dublin; Dr. R. M. Reddick, of Atlanta; and Rev. J. L. Lomax, of Yalobusha. The conventional sermon will be preached Tuesday night by Rev. O. J. Moore, of Griffin.

Major I. N. Ragsdale is expected to speak Wednesday morning. Other speakers will be Dr. E. P. Johnson, of Atlanta; Rev. E. G. Thomas, of Savannah; President J. M. Nabrit and Secretary Crawford, of Atlanta; followed by Dr. Bryant's annual address. Wednesday afternoon and night the Sunday school department will meet at Wheat Street, and the B. Y. P. U. at Ebenezer. Rev. W. W. Weatherspoon, of Bainbridge, will preach that night at Wheat Street and Rev. W. M. Hall, of Macon, will preach at Ebenezer.

Several women will be on the program for Thursday—W. L. Gholston, L. M. Burney, L. M. Williams, Pearl Reese and W. F. McKinney; also some prominent laymen—Professor G. F. Rivers, W. S. Hornsby, H. A. Spruay, R. D. Moore, Dr. W. R. Moore. Other speakers will be Dr. C. D. Hubert, of Morehouse college, and Rev. J. T. Saxon. Rev. J. H. Evans will deliver his annual address.

Friday a special memorial service will be held at Lincoln Memorial park for the late Dr. D. W. Cannon and ex-President C. H. Robinson. The meeting will close Friday night with a sermon at Ebenezer by Rev. W. A. Reid, of Columbus, and one at Wheat Street by Rev. E. C. Smith, of Americus.

Photo by Walter Davis, Staff Photographer.

J. W. McWilliams, Jr.

years, serving most of this period as a call officer.

In speaking of the new lieutenant, Captain J. L. Gordon said Saturday night that he "is a fearless, clean-cut, conscientious gentleman."

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

He is popular among his fellow officers, and has established an enviable reputation for his courage. He is a field lieutenant, working in the north side territory, under the command of Captain Gordon.

COUNCIL TO DECIDE TENTH WARD BATTLE

With two candidates contesting for the place, city council today is expected to select a councilmanic representative from the tenth ward to succeed Councilman T. Frank Callaway, resigned. Former Alderman Charles M. Ford, of the tenth ward and J. R. Curtis, prominent resident of the ward, are candidates.

A petition signed by more than 50 per cent of the voters of the ward is expected to be offered by Ford supporters, requesting council to elect him to the unexpired term.

Alderman J. Allen Couch will offer a proposal of the Atlanta board of education to float another $5,000,000 bond issue for school improvements. The board is expected to be referred to the finance committee. Included in the list of items on a proposed new bond issue for public improvements being prepared are $200,000 for advancement of the Jacob Elbas offer of $100,000 to establish a pay ward to be operated in conjunction with Grady hospital, new fire and police headquarters, library facilities and other improvements.

TWO RESIDENCES ON SOUTH PRYOR
DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire of undetermined origin Sunday night badly damaged residences at 456 and 463 South Pryor street, according to fire reports. Flames originated on the second floor of the residence of J. H. Friedman, 459 South Pryor street and spread to the adjoining residence owned by Pete Verge, according to the police reports of Captain J. L. Gordon.

"THOMAS" saved my hair," says John Reynolds Musical Comedy Star.

The THOMAS' end dandruff, stop falling hair, grow hair

The THOMAS' 160 Peachtree St. Opposite Howard Theatre Hours: 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Sat. to 7 p.m.

NEW CITADEL OPENED BY SALVATION ARMY

The banner of the Salvation Army was raised Sunday afternoon over the new citadel of the army in West End at formal dedication ceremonies inaugurating the organization's religious work on a permanent basis in that part of the city. The citadel is at Lawton and Gordon streets, on the Whitehall to Beecher street car line.

Commissioner William A. McIntyre, commanding officer for the 15 southern states, conducted the ceremonies with the assistance of Colonel Alfred A. Chandler, chief secretary; Colonel A. W. Baillie, property secretary; Brigadier David Main, secretary of the five-year program of the army in the south, and Brigadier Harry Baynes, commander of the officer's training garrison. The territorial staff band played for the dedication service and the revival meeting held at night.

L. L. Flanagan, pastor of West End Presbyterian church, and Rev. Marvin A. Franklin, pastor of Park Street Methodist church, welcomed the Salvation Army to the West End community on behalf of the Christian churches, affirming the solidarity of all Protestant denominations in their common work for the salvation of souls.

Commissioner McIntyre preached the first evangelistic sermon from the pulpit of the new citadel Sunday night, bringing two penitents to the mercy seat to seek the salvation, forgiveness and new birth in Christ which he declared was pledged to all who seek it through the sacrifice of Jesus on the cross.

The sermon, it was announced, was the opening of a week's revival campaign at which Brigadier David Main will preach Monday and Tuesday, Brigadier Harry Baynes Wednesday and Thursday and Adjutant Leroy Debevoise Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Nightly services will open with a song at 7:30 o'clock. Adjutant Harry Tanks, corps officer in charge at the new citadel, will assist the evangelistic speakers.

YOUTH IS DROWNED IN CAHABA RIVER
WHILE IN BATHING

Centerville, Ala., July 15.—(P)—Felix Johnson, 18, was drowned today in the Cahaba river near here while bathing with four other youths. His body was recovered a short time later.

Companions of the boy made attempts to rescue him, one of the youths, Theodore Vernon, of Scottville, almost losing his life when he became exhausted while struggling with the drowning boy.

Johnson, who could not swim, lost his life when he stepped from shallow water into a hole about 20 feet deep.

Don't give up hope of having a clear skin! Don't frown when your mirror glaringly reflects some facial blemish—or sigh and wish for a quick and easy way of clearing your skin.

Here is a treatment that you may feel confident will give you the desired results.

Go to your druggist, ask for Black and White Ointment and use it according to directions. It is pleasant to use, highly beneficial and scientifically safe.

For best results use Black and White Skin Soap with Black and White Ointment. All dealers sell them at small cost.

PEABODY Baltimore, Md. The Leading Eastern Music Conservatory in the Country. Certificate and Academic Degrees awarded. Tuition in all grades and branches. Circulars mailed.

LAW NIGHT. Faculty of leading judges and lawyers. Two and three-year course and course for business men. 28th year begins Sept. 24th. For catalog and information, address ATLANTA LAW SCHOOL, 417 Adams St. Bldg. Bldg. 28th.

666 Cures Chills and Fever, Intermittent, Remittent and Bilious Fever due to Malaria. It kills the Germs.

SEAMLESS BED SHEETS

81x90-in. seamless white Bed Sheets, ready hemmed. Usually $1.19 69c

SEA ISLAND SHEETING 39-in. Unbleached Sheeting, good quality, close-count. Under the manufacturing price. Made to sell for 19c yard. 9c

DRESS GOODS 25 pieces of fast-color Wash Silks—very pretty shade, wonderful material—for dresses and fancy draperies. Regular 69c 25c Yd.

GINGHAM 32-in. fast-color, good quality Dress Gingham. Regular 25c. value. Monday special 9c Yd. (10-Yd. Limit)

BARGAINS in FURNITURE DEPT.

SAVE $5 TO $100 ON REFRIGERATORS

Heavy cork insulated. Hardwood white Duco finish. 50-lb. ice capacity. They can be electrically equipped at any time. The most wonderful refrigerator bargains ever heard of. This $85 Refrigerator now—

Look! This Refrigerator Now $19.75

$5.00 Allowance on your old Ice Box or Refrigerator.

Other Refrigerators From $9.90 to $69.50 Allowance on Your Old One

Best Grade Canvas Cot $1.98

SPECIALS $17.50 Couch Hammocks $11.90 $3.50 Folding Ironing Boards $1.98 $1.50 Clothes Hampers 85c $3.50 Porch Swings $1.98 Baby Sulkies $1.98 $19.75 Bed Springs $9.95

Window Shades All Colors—All Sizes We got 'em. From the best made to the cheapest that's good. A full line 36-in. Shades, assorted colors—49c, 69c, 89c We Make, Measure, Hang and Clean Shades

ARMSTRONG AND CONGOLEUM RUGS 6x9-ft. Genuine Armstrong and "Gold Seal" Bordered Rugs on sale today as long as 25 last at $3.69

if you want a kitchen convenience that pays for itself, buy a good refrigerator and

USE ICE

Besides making kitchen work easier, making possible a greater variety of summer menus and protecting the family health this convenience actually pays for itself.

Often foods that do not seem actually "spoiled" have lost their appetizing nutritive qualities through refrigerating methods that do not provide a uniform moist cold, as well as through exposure to unsanitary conditions.

From every standpoint the healthful convenient, economical service that pure ice in a good refrigerator gives will be found to be the best.

THE CONSTITUTION
CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager.
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager.

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.
Telephone W. 6365.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
Daily and 1 Wk. 1 Mo. $1.00 3 Mo. $2.50 6 Mo. $4.50 1 Yr. $8.00
Single Copies 10c
By Mail Only
Sunday...10c 45c $1.25 $2.50 $5.00
R. R. 2d and 3d class rates
Daily without Sunday 1 Yr. $5.00

ATLANTA, GA., JULY 16, 1929.

J. R. BOLLARD, Constitution Building, outside of Atlanta.
entitled to use the publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. It is not responsible for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates and does not accept any responsibility for subscription payments not received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

cannot be objected to, except through prejudice, by any one who believes wholeheartedly in the sacred and traditional principles of the party. The candidates link the north and the south for the first time since the war between the states. They are men of records that ring as clear as bells. They are democrats to the core, and of wide national service and experience.

There may be some heretofore democrats who will join with the republicans. That is their privilege. There will be far more heretofore republicans who will join with the democrats. That is their privilege.

Everything at the time looks favorable to a democratic national victory, and if so the democratic south will have again come into her own.

PULPITS AND POLITICS.

Judge Walter B. Jones, in charge to the grand jury of Montgomery county, Alabama, stressed the facts that local self government, and absolute separation of church and state are the fundamentals upon which this government is based, and are the paramount features of the democratic fight. Press dispatches quote him as saying:

"If the preachers of this country and the churches take part in the present political campaign, I care not on what side, immeasurable harm will be done the cause of religion, and thousands of good men and women will be driven from their spiritual homes by the lash of political accusation."

It is hoped the churches of this country, of any and all denominations, will not surrender the gospel for a political platform, and that the pulpit shall not be made a political forum. Politics and religion have never mixed and never will. It was the wise vision of the builders of the federal constitution that inhibited such a possibility, in the interest of good government and unalienated religion.

GEORGIA PEACHES TO EUROPE.

Press dispatches say that not less than ten carloads of Georgia peaches will be shipped, through the port of Savannah on the ship Daytonia, this week, for distribution to European markets. The fruit has been standard packed, and will be kept cool from good ventilation, and circulating air devices. Other shipments of peaches to Europe are expected to be made during the season, particularly after the Elbertas begin to move.

Of these shipments the Savannah Morning News says:

"Farm relief of all sorts, that is relief that really relieves, is going to be found, not in a lot of political nostrums, but in paying strict attention to the good old law of supply and demand. And producers and transportation men ought to find that they are partners in the solution of the problem which that old law so frequently sets up."

That is sound and logical. Systematic marketing is essential to the successful production of any commodity of the farm or orchard, and this is particularly true as to perishables. Before the plans for marketing, however, must come standardization, in quality, pack and package. The best relief for the farmers is the relief they can provide for themselves by good products, more to the acre, proper grading and packing and marketing.

HIGH SCHOOL GROWTH.

There are 360 accredited, four-year high schools in Georgia, with an enrollment at the close of the school year of 53,965 pupils, 10,097 of whom graduated.

In 1903 the university undertook in a definite way the building up and accrediting of the high schools of the state. In 1904-1905 there were twelve such schools with 48 teachers, and 1,648 enrollments. In the years that have elapsed the number of schools have increased 3,000 per cent, graduates 10,000 per cent, enrollments 3,300 per cent and teachers 5,000 per cent. There are only five counties in Georgia with accredited four-year high schools.

To Dr. Joseph S. Stewart, professor of secondary education at the university, with the helpful cooperation of the state department of education, may this remarkable growth in this department of public education be attributed.

In the meantime this growth is a challenge to the general assembly to so equip and maintain the higher state institutions that this great flood-tide of high school graduates may be adequately provided for in finishing their education.

DEMOCRATS WILL NEVER PAVE THE WAY TO THE WHITE HOUSE THROUG BRICKS.

The southern democrat who doesn't stay with his party is going to be pretty lonely.

When Smith writes his speech of acceptance he ought to word it so it can be also used March 4, 1929.

A soft drink turns away the dry's wrath.

The farmers' prayerful yearnings may lead to greater earnings.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Mercier and Louvain.

July 4 has not settled the uneasy dispute in Louvain over the inscription to be placed on the new library. Some inscription is bound to be chiseled in the balustrade. Both disputants invoke the sentiments of the late Cardinal Mercier. Undoubtedly he knew of the proposed text, but does it seem likely that he would have persisted in his desire to see "German Kultur" immortalized in the facade of the college of the Louvain? Mercier, the gentle, the scholar to whom all war was savagery and unworthy of civilized men? Berlin knows the destruction of Louvain was not carried out by an anonymous party. Whither, then, the great builder and architect has the right to protect his work. But when the idea strikes the plea that it means a betrayal of the Belgian people to leave off the inscription, a serious error is made. For who, amongst the Belgians, insists on it? A few French newspapers in Brussels. Who is the French consul at Louvain. Flanders in the main kept quiet, sided with the spirit of peace and have none of a monument that might perpetuate rancors and hatred.

Contrasts.

Credulity seems seldom to have reached more importance as it has in our scientific era. If some explorers of Egyptian royal tombs fall sick and one of them dies; superstitious influences when the duke of Newcastle succumbs to an attack of apoplexy, it is not surprising, because he possessed the famous "Hope diamond" which would protect him from death. Discoveries stupefy humanity at the same time. Professor Claude announces a project to cool off the African continent by digging the cold waters at the ocean's bottom to the top. On the same day that dispatches carry news of people dying of fright in London because of a sun eclipse. Life is becoming completely debunked in every one of its phases, says an American observer.

On the other hand, the religious and literary doctrines expressed with violence leading to incoherence in some instances. A Hindu girl announces that she would like to be converted to Christianity. We are invited to listen to a new Messiah. Just when mankind is growing proud of its technical achievements and perfection and the coolness of scientific research, an Italian woman, daughter of an eminent chemist consults a soothsayer who tells her that evil will come to her from a man with a peculiar facial characteristic. The next day she shines at a restaurant where, to her horror, she observes that the waiter has eyes of different color. She asks the manager to take the man away. Leaving the cafe, the waiter who had been waiting, stabs her. The card-bearer had been right.

"Merry Widow"

Vienna has just celebrated the silver jubilee of Franz Lehár. The Austrian government, on this occasion, conferred an honor upon the composer, to whom Viennese opera largely owes its universal renown. One of the librettists of "The Merry Widow" is Leon. Leon, recalled what difficulty was had in placing the piece that since had 2,000 or so presentations in the world. Directors have discovered in its success. When Lehár played the partition on the piano for the first time, M. Karczag, director of the Vienna theater, exclaimed: "You call that music?" After the 300th performance of the "Merry Widow," which was triumphal, it was decided to offer Lehár a medal in commemoration. M. Karczag asked: "What is the reason for this?" Leon what inscription he thought suitable for the medal. "Put your own words on them," replied Leon. And so it was done. Franz Lehár attaches great value to that souvenir that carries the inscription, "You can't call that music!"

The Cotton Farmers And Their Problems

BY HARVEY JORDAN.

Editor Constitution: Spasmodic and sporadic efforts have been made during the past 30 years to alleviate the burdens and hardships of the southern cotton growers. Temporary relief has at times been obtained, but the systematic agricultural lawyer for the masses of the growers of the most valuable monetary staple crop in the world, continues to prevail. The travail of the growers will never be checked until their real economic problems are solved by intelligent and concerted action.

The first and leading problem for solution is that of economic production under an intensive system of culture. This constitutes the primary and basic structure of the cotton industry, and must be worked out by each individual farmer in the management of his own farm.

The intensive culture of cotton requires the planting of fewer acres per grower, fertilization, rapid working of the crop, with an increasing yield of lint per acre at a lower cost.

An expansion in the acreage of food and feed supplies to maintain the needs of the farm and rotation of crops to rebuild and conserve the fertility of the soil. Until the growers learn and apply this fundamental system of production, there can be no real farm relief by legislation or cooperative effort.

The farmers must learn their first lesson and carry out the farm and family effort by legislation and cooperative effort will bring emancipation and prosperity. Farmers who have purchased the proper course of raising their crops and planted only such acreage in cotton as would yield at least half a bale per acre, have led a life of independence and free from debt. It is impossible to bankrupt such farmers. This is the true fact of that class of cotton growers for the past 100 years, but they constitute only a minority of the nearly 3,000,000 growers.

The world's present need for 15,000,000 bales of American cotton farming on 30,000,000 acres of land, and the balance of the present large acreage in cotton planted to food and feed crops. The present average yield of only one-third of a bale of cotton per acre at the average high acre cost for production makes the industry generally unprofitable at 20 cents per pound. Good profits by the intensive culture of cotton on a limited acreage have been definitely proven on thousands of acres of field demonstrations located all over the south under the supervision of our better farming agencies.

When the farmers have been put into actual practice the cotton growing industry will enter into a south-wide period of prosperity for the growers.

LOOKING AND LISTENING

BY SAM W. SMALL.

Foolish Fears of What Smith Might Do If He Were President

Things of unexpected and unusual character are popping in the political field. The press of the nation is generally agreed that the "old order" has passed and that we are facing entirely new and changing conditions that will affect the policies of the government, at and about the November election.

So far as the democratic party is concerned it has exalted for itself a virile, self-contained and mail-fisted leader who has announced the old captains and the rank and file that he means to conduct the campaign on his own lines and terms. That is a novel decision, but it is just such a bold break as the party has needed for more than a generation. Those who would object to such a "statesman" of the party have had half a dozen national occasions to exhibit competent leadership, successful strategy and political wisdom in judging popular sentiments and demands. They have lost out so often that losing a spirit of peace and have none of a monument that might perpetuate rancors and hatred.

It is no wonder then that the rank and file of democrats have collected so many of the "old order" habits of the most populous state of the union and the most powerful and heavily financed republican party in any state of the republic.

One cannot lead the party to victory there is no other man in the country who could.

Silly Notions About Smith.

Lying at my elbow are more than a score of letters from readers of The Constitution. They put up to me some interesting questions. I am free to say that the Catholics of this country cannot elect Smith president; he will be elected, if at all, by the vote of Protestants and Catholics.

One excellent lady in Atlanta asks: "Will the country be safe with a Catholic president in the white house?"

Will I? I cannot imagine for a minute that any Catholic citizen would elect a Catholic president. I would desire to endanger the peace, fraternity and security of the nation.

The fact that Smith is a Roman Catholic doesn't matter a trifle to me. It does not affect his constitutional eligibility to do so. I am free to say that the Catholics of this country cannot elect Smith president; he will be elected, if at all, by the vote of Protestants and Catholics.

Protestants of the Union. The proportion of Protestant and Catholic votes is 7 to 1 in the 48 states in which the Catholic vote thrown as a unit would prove the decisive balance of power.

Smith will surely get the electoral votes of 10 or 12 southern states, in which the Protestant populations are overwhelming and the Catholic population is small. He will get those votes in spite of all the religious prejudice that is scattered through our country.

There is not enough of it to excite anybody and call for an anti-Catholic crusade by the party or the press.

Recognizing the Papal Sovereignty.

A professor in one of our Georgia universities asks me: "Would it not be better for the pope to recognize the pope at Rome as a temporal sovereign?"

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

BY DR. S. PARKES CADMAN

Can you explain the underlying meaning of Shakespeare's play, "The Tempest"?

It is the latest of all the great dramatist's plays and has been identified by no less an authority than the late Dean Stubbs with the closing years of his career. I personally regard it as an allegory of human life, with deeper meanings in it for those who have a sympathetic imagination.

Its lessons are unforced, unsophisticated, almost likely to be unappreciated by those whose vision is limited or whose hearing is dull. For what is the Fortunate Island of the play if not the human soul moving in those realms of dream where every one and everything appears in the abstract?

All lose their way in such enchanted spheres, the absolute, the absolute lord of the island, who can summon to his service the varied shapes of mermaid and passion and the numerous types personifying the drama of human existence. Here Shakespeare becomes "not one, but all mankind's" genius runs easily through the kaleidoscope of thought and feeling, from "Nature's word notes wild" to the chimney corner wisdom of practical life, and all the transcendent subtleties of the address to Time.

"No, Time, thou shalt not boast that I do change. 'Tis past, 'tis blank, 'tis full, 'tis light, 'Tis to be nothing novel, nothing strange, 'Tis but a dreariness of a former sight."

This is surely the temper of Shakespeare in his last phase, surrounded by the shadows of his birthplace, reviewing the attitudes of life, feeling he has scaled, and curious, but never scornful, about the whole of his life, which he has used to him as to no other modern mind. As he says, "the 'revels now are ended,' the actors 'melted into air,' and the 'baseless fabric of this vision' about to dissolve."

What magnanimity and freedom the play reveals! What self-mastery and wealth of possession! Make the contents of this great literature part of yourself and your outlook on life.

What did Christ mean, when He said of the deers that they were "dead"? Is not this statement completely at variance with His universal sympathy with suffering?

This saying is an Oriental proverb current in the days of Jesus, and one readily understood by the man to whom it was repeated. The term "dead" is applied to two groups: first, to those who are spiritually in that condition; secondly, to the physically dead.

Jesus was anxious that this particular candidate for discipleship should not return to his former associations, lest pressure be brought to bear upon him that would prevent the fulfillment of his purpose.

Those who heard the saying and knew the circumstances of its utterance understood the paramount claims of the kingdom for which such great personal sacrifices had to be made. The lesson the incident conveys is that the man who would follow Jesus has no rival, not even in our closest human ties. Thousands of His chosen servants have relinquished everything, even their own lives, to obey the call of their Lord.

When the farmers have been put into actual practice the cotton growing industry will enter into a south-wide period of prosperity for the growers.

When the farmers have been put into actual practice the cotton growing industry will enter into a south-wide period of prosperity for the growers.

When the farmers have been put into actual practice the cotton growing industry will enter into a south-wide period of prosperity for the growers.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

It will save many correspondents disappointment if we announce once more that I no longer have any kind of information, instruction or advice to give girls on sex questions. I am still prepared to furnish boys aged 15 years or older the sort of knowledge and advice I think boys should have, but I shall send this to no one other than the boy himself.

I have been experimenting and groping in the dark for 15 years trying to find some happy compromise with the conspiracy of silence on this subject, and recently signs and portents have made me wobble at the knees, so far as the enlightenment of girls is concerned.

Mothers have not come forward with any very enthusiastic approval of my way of dealing with the question. It seems to me that mothers prefer silence. That is, the majority of 'em seem to feel that way. I have had some very earnest commendation from mothers. I must admit I have had very few candid expressions of disapproval from mothers. But they have not indorsed my course and a few fathers have frankly disapproved of it, so my father from now on, in regard to the enlightenment of girls about sex questions, will be silence, large dose of it, black gobs, at least until something develops to convince me that the policy must be changed again.

Here is a letter from a father who happens to be a minister:

Dr. William Brady, Dear Sir:

In your column recently you stated that you will not give any sex instruction to girls because someone's objection weighed so heavily with you. While I do not know either what the instruction was that you submitted to the "layman" or his criticism or objection thereto, I will say that your writing generally has so commended itself to me that I would be glad to have you send your sex instruction to my daughter. I am a minister, and my daughter, now aged 14, and here with inclose stamped, addressed envelopes for the purpose.

My judgment is that we greatly err in allowing sex ignorance, which I believe to be a much greater danger than too much information, and I do not want my children to learn the way I did, as you say, "unarmed and blindfolded."

Remembering you of my interest and appreciation and hoping that you will not conclude to be "whipped," I am, Yours sincerely,

Dr. William Brady, Dear Sir:

In recent years it has been the fashion to deplore the loose conduct of the younger generation. It seems to me that the most severe censure for the wilfulness or the wildness of modern youth are the principal obstructions in the way of wholesome education, and the principal obstructions in the way of wholesome education, and the principal obstructions in the way of wholesome education.

You cannot compare youth of today with the youth of yesterday in this respect, for if young people in the past were not so much instructed from their proper instructors than young people get now, they were not beset by such liberty and the pornographic periodical press to mention only two of the outstanding evils of the day.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Tradition Dies Hard.

Our doctor says the scales of scarlet fever have no infective power. If that is true, why the 21-day quarantine? (J. E.)

Answer—Your doctor is right. The germ of scarlet fever is carried only in the nose and throat or other discharges. An isolated period ("quarantine") of 30 to 50 days is required in many municipalities. Probably the custom of isolating patients in less than three weeks in uncomplicated cases. If any nose or throat or ear discharge persists, it becomes a question whether the patient can still spread the disease, and in the absence of a specific test, health authorities must give the community the benefit of the doubt by keeping the patient isolated until the danger is over. Formerly doctors assumed that scarlet fever was spread by or through the skin, and accordingly tried to keep the patients isolated until the skin was normal. Now we know that this was an error.

Resistance.

In a talk about "Braving the Blizzard" you speak of a person's power of resistance being so low that, they freeze to death. I should think that if lowered resistance makes freezing easier, it would make catching and disease easier. (R. B.)

Answer—I was quoting the words of Vilhjalmur Stefansson from his book "Life with the Eskimos." Mr. Stefansson says: "A white man (lost in a blizzard) will walk about until he is thoroughly exhausted. . . . He will stop through weariness and sleepiness. His powers of resistance have then been brought so low that freezing to death is the common end of his life. With the Eskimos, on the other hand, a man who is lost to the wind and sits down at least rest until the storm clears, and then he will walk on. I should not have used the word 'resistance' there, but I do not doubt that an exhausted man would more readily catch typhoid fever or diphtheria or pneumonia." (Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

Sermons to Live By

BY ELAM FRANKLIN DEMERY.

Text: "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine." Prov. 17:22.

Which is God's will for His children, the merry heart or the broken spirit?

To ask the question is to answer it, for Jesus came to change men's hearts from the spirit of heaviness to the spirit of grace. Isaiah 61:3.

The grouchy, heavy spirited gloomy creature will be by and by advanced in grace until he too has that precious joy of the spirit, joy in his face, and life. Gal. 5:22-23.

Heavily receive the gospel ("Good News") and you will be a merry heart. Jesus said, "I have come to bring peace and joy to all men." (Luke 19:44)

Grateful praise and groaning psalms cannot come out together from the same mouth, one excludes the other.

"Laugh? Yes, why not?" "Tis better than crying a lot; We are made to be glad. Not sad."

"Sing? Why, yes to be sure; If the heart's full of song All day long."

It Is Easier To Teach Children Good Manners If Your Feet Aren't on the Table

By Robert Quillen

Once upon a time numerous people in one of the states began to practice voodooism—an African sorcery and superstition which required human sacrifice. As the practice spread, the state passed a law forbidding anybody to possess a book on the subject.

Soon thereafter the police stopped and searched a man's car, found one of the forbidden books and presented the man for trial. The man elected to be his own attorney.

"Your Honor," he said to the judge, "there is no evidence against me, for no evidence has been legally obtained."

"How is that?" asked the judge.

"What is the supreme law of the land?" asked the prisoner.

"The constitution, of course."

"Well," said the prisoner, "the second clause of the sixth article of the constitution says the judges in every state shall be bound by it, regardless of any state law. Isn't that right?"

"Quite right," the judge agreed.

"And the fourth amendment to the constitution declares that my automobile shall not be searched without a warrant, does it not?"

"Yes," the judge agreed. "At least it says your effects shall not be searched without a warrant issued upon probable cause and supported by oath and your automobile is one of your effects."

"I'm glad to find you so reasonable," said the prisoner. "Now, if the constitution is the supreme law by which you are bound, and it guarantees my automobile against search without warrant, how can you accept evidence obtained in violation of the constitution?"

"Voodooism," said the judge, "is a bad thing. You had a book on the subject. I sentence you to a year in jail. Court is adjourned."

On the street the judge was stopped by a friend.

"Adjourned rather early, didn't you?" asked the friend.

"Yes," said the judge, "I have to make a speech."

"My subject," said the judge, "is 'Duty'—the duty of every citizen to obey and respect the law and preserve inviolate the sacred constitution which is the foundation of our liberties."

(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

Odd Ends of City Life

By Bill Shipper

Wonder what a society editor thinks about doing her copy for the Sunday paper—could it be something like this, you reckon?

Of cordial interest throughout the south (that sounds better than throughout Marietta) was the marriage of Miss Marie Lee . . . (how do you spell that subject?).

The church was beautifully decked for the occasion with palms, ferns and . . . (everything the neighbors had, in fact).

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Lee, Waldrippe, the pastor's gifted young daughter, sang "O Promise Me." (In the name of heaven, why did they let her do that?)

Entering the church first, were the ushers . . . (two of them staggered). Mrs. Percy McAlpine De Facto, an invalid, of the bride, entered the church alone (she would) carrying a sheath bouquet of sweetest roses tied with streamers for their family trees. What, oh, what can I think of that—that who wants my job, I think I'll quit right now.)

Books are the one thing, unless its cigarettes, you can't leave around a newspaper office—they disappear into . . .

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK

(Copyright, 1928, for North American News-Service, Inc.)

Hollywood, Calif., July 15.—Today Hollywood plays war via the celluloid strip. Ten years ago most of the men who figure largely in the movies today were at the college.

Four of them were talking it over at a bench club a few days ago. They were Robert Armstrong, Raoul W. White, James Gleason and Conrad Nagel, who are writing, directing and acting the movie revivals of the great struggle.

A decade ago Conrad Nagel was in the navy. So was Mel Brown. Norman Kerry wore his tin helmet jauntily in a machine-gun outfit. Appreciation limits out rapid descent. Reginald Denry was in the British aviation service. He is one of the colony's most persistent flying enthusiasts today.

Richard Arliss, who plays the American flying corps, which gives him one of the flair he shows for the aviator-hero role.

Charles Delaney was in the Canadian flying corps. When he was a kid, he was a birdman, and won the Croix de Guerre. Lucien Littlefield, the character actor, drove an ambulance. And he is still in the flying corps. Adolphe probably moved more lively in those days. That lifted eyebrow goes better as a drawing-room weapon.

Lewis Stone was a major. Walter Long a captain. Richard Tucker had intimate and uncomfortable acquaintance with trenches and dugouts.

Tom Mix always had the bunch one better. His top piece is the biggest and whitest cowboy hat in Hollywood. His life is keyed in the superlative. So his war record includes the Spanish-American as well as the world war.

On the second thoughts, so do Jimmie Gleason and Lewis Stone. Which limits Tom Mix to millinery, salary altitude and literary accomplishments.

In addition to having been born in 1928, the Klammage statistics include six daughters, two sons, 25 grandchildren and a great-grandchild. They fished Klammage today.

Rathbone, Illinois Congressman, Dies In Chicago Hospital

Chicago, July 15.—(P)—Congressman Henry P. Rathbone, of Kenilworth, Illinois representative-at-large since 1922, died in Presbyterian hospital today following an operation.

Rathbone, who was a candidate for reelection, had been ill two years and an operation finally was deemed necessary. Apparently he was recovering satisfactorily and was able to talk to hospital attendants.

While he was talking to an interne, he complained of difficulty in breathing, and died a moment later.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY PREDICTED BY COHEN

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Confidence that the democratic party would be successful in the November elections was expressed Sunday by Major John S. Cohen, editor and publisher of The Atlanta Journal, and democratic national committee man from Georgia in a statement issued following his return from the meeting of the committee at New York last week.

"Since 1892, either in the capacity of a newspaper reporter or as an official of the democratic party, I have been attending democratic national conventions and meetings of the democratic national committee," said Major Cohen in his statement. "At the recent meeting of the committee in New York, there was an unmistakable air of confidence and militancy. From all parts of the nation men and women expressed the belief that democratic victory at the polls in November was more nearly assured than at any other previous similar time in the history of the party. The confidence of democratic leaders in the east was matched by the confidence of democratic leaders from the south, and it is apparent that victory is practically assured, if Smith carries the eastern states and the south remains democratic."

"Naturally, there was the keenest interest manifested as to the situation in Georgia, the two Carolinas, Florida and Alabama, these states having been most active in their opposition to Governor Smith's nomination. During the pre-convention fight and at Houston, I made many useful, interesting and agreeable contacts with the democratic leaders from the five states above mentioned. Many of these were present in New York at the meeting of the national committee, and they expressed the hope and the confident belief that the usual democratic majorities in their states would be accorded the nominees."

"It is significant that, without exception, every democratic senator and congressman from these five states and the editor of practically every daily newspaper in these five states is giving wholehearted support to the democratic ticket."

"The aggressiveness and militancy of the democratic candidate was demonstrated early last week in his sensible and heartening telegram to the western farm leaders and in the prompt appointment of his close personal friend, John J. Raskob, as chairman of the democratic national committee. By this appointment, the candidate demonstrated the fact that he knows what he wants to do and has no hesitancy about doing it, and by naming the chairman of the finance committee of the General Motors Corporation, he has robbed the republican party of its hitherto winning shell, the party of business and prosperity."

GEORGE STALLINGS IS ABLE TO SIT UP IN HOSPITAL BED

Macon, Ga., July 15.—(P)—Although still considered seriously ill, George Stallings spent his most comfortable day since being brought home from Toronto two weeks ago; it was reported at a private hospital here.

Mr. Stallings, known as the "Miracle Man of baseball," spent much of the day sitting up. A fever which developed during an attack of influenza has somewhat abated, it was stated.

Pale Children

Made over to your liking, with rosy cheeks, hearty appetites, vigorous digestion and robust health. Give them a glass of this delicious digestant with meals.

Shivar Ale

Pure Digestive Aromatics With Shivar Mineral Water and Ginger. Nothing like it for building rich blood and solid flesh. At druggists and grocers—satisfaction or your money back on first dozen.

Ask your dealer to get Shivar for you from the WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTORS:
Atlanta, J. N. Hirsch.
Athens, Talmadge Bros.
Canton, Wm. Co.
Cartersville, Cartersville Gro. Co.
Cedartown, Consolidated Gro. Co.
Dalton, McCamery-Stone & Deakin.
Griffin, Griffin Grocery Co.
LaGrange, LaGrange Grocery Co.
Newman, E. V. Kell Co.
Rockmart, Consolidated Gro. Co.
Rome, Consolidated Gro. Co.
West Point, W. F. Wholesale Gro. Co.

EXCURSION COLUMBUS, GA.

Saturday, July 21st
$3.00 Round Trip

Leave Atlanta 8:00 A. M. and 4:00 P. M.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Indian Prince Says American

NO RESTRAINT AND RENOUNCES NO LIBERTIES

Bride Does as She Desires

This is the last of four consecutive articles written following an interview an American newspaperwoman won with the former maharajah of Indore and his bride, who was Nancy Ann Miller, Seattle, Wash. It is the first authentic interview given by the two since their marriage, which aroused the interest of the world.

BY ZOE BECKLEY.
(Copyright, 1923, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

I studied the former maharajah of Indore closely during my interview with him and his bride from Seattle, Nancy Ann Miller.

His highness is tallish and straightly slender, his complexion light fair. An East Indian, his features well-cut and sensitive, teeth very white behind full lips that smile easily and a small, crooked mustache. His eyes are his spectacular feature—large and morose gray than black, with a trick of opening very wide when he speaks of anything that interests him.

His manners are carefully courteous, yet simple, his English smooth-flowing and correct. The day I met him he wore British-cut tweeds of a reddish brown, striped shirt and collar, and a brown and pinkish scarf. One fine diamond gleamed upon his left hand.

The former maharajah gives you an impression of knowing the world from every angle, the modern one best of all. He repeatedly asserted his breadth of view regarding woman's place in the scheme of things, and rather encouraged his wife to talk. Of the two she was the more reluctant. Often when she would hesitate, his highness would break the silence with an unaffected, frank reply.

"Our first meeting," he put in, when Nancy's line barged at my query, "was not at all as some papers said. We met at Lucerne near two years ago, introduced by friends in quite the regular way. Love at sight? Well—" he smiled a little and his wide eyes sought his wife's face. She dropped her glance.

For me—it was.

Visited in Seattle.
"Facts speak for themselves. I went to America a few months later to visit my wife's country and her family. This was in the autumn of 1920. I entered the states inquisitively as a tourist. It was during the visit of Queen Marie, of Rumania, and a little notice was taken of me. I wanted only to see certain points of interest, and to stop in Seattle."

The maharajah's eyes told me silently even then their romance was well under way, and that place were burning for unparalleled marriage which took place in India last March—three months ago, yet does not seem strange in the least to the two who took chief part in it.

"It is difficult," said his highness, seeing that I wanted more details, "for one of my race to discuss the intimate side of love and marriage. Marriage with us is sacred, and a wife is held high above the level of argument or chat."

"But I wish to say this, that contrary to reports her highness is under no restraints and renounces no liberties dear to her, but comes, goes and does freely what she wishes. The antiquity of India and its slowness to abolish ancient customs make us necessarily reluctant to live in quite the western way. The so-called emancipation of women comes slowly. Meanwhile we conform reasonably to what is expected of persons in our position."

Feminists Among Ancestors.

"Among my ancestors were cultured, self-reliant women who corresponded in a way to your feminists. They had their own interests, philanthropies and activities, and were known through Indore for their good works."

"Our women enjoy a high position. Husband and wife together rule the household and share responsibilities. In our literature are many poems, hymns and tales composed by our Indian and queen. Ages back, in the Holkar family, our women have done many things to distinguish themselves both in the arts and in philanthropies."

"Hindu wives are held in a respect which demands a certain amount of seclusion. It would be unnatural for them to go about in public as European or American women do. But they are free, not mere playthings."

India Is Changing.
"Like any world, India is changing. Modern ideas are toward freedom. But it comes slowly. It would offend great numbers of people if our women did not observe the age-old customs to some extent. Personally, and others like me, feel that education and freedom are part of the reverence we have for the mother sex. But reforms, to be safe, must be slow and sure."

I asked her highness if she would undertake some sort of work for her people when she returned to India.

"Oh, yes," she answered. "I could never be content in complete idleness. We can work now—together."

"There is so much in India that needs helping. I should like to do something for women and children. I love children. Is—education compulsory in India, dear?" she asked her husband, and on receiving a negative reply, she went on: "Then I'd choose to work for children—educational and social service lines—for women and for children. I can't say just now what it will be, but we will certainly do something."

The maharajah cut in to explain that they had both been in poor health, he with bronchial and heart trouble, she with a bothersome appendix.

Their Beautiful Home.

"Our principal business recently has been to rest all we possibly could," said he. "We are both better for it. I used to be something of a tennis player, and a hunter, too. But when my heart went queer I had to rest from sports."

What a place they have to rest in, this home the rich Indian bought. Chateau D'Hennemont, just outside the quaint village where Louis XIV was born, is one of the most beautiful private estates in France. One turns off the main road, past a gray stone lodge, into a magnificent park sloping to a high point overlooking the river valley, the city of Paris and apparently the entire world.

Superb groups of trees, acres of velvety lawns, flower beds, hothouses, bowers, rose gardens and terraces stretch away on all sides. The house, which has 47 rooms, is modern.

There is not an outward sign of anything Oriental in the vast menage. Dark-faced men of India are there in numbers, to be sure, moving softly about, but they are all in impeccable European dress, and have the manner of men well used to western ways. There are 20 persons in the maharajah's immediate entourage, not counting servants.

Two Dozen Servants.

Of the latter there are two full dozen; French cooks, English butlers and valets, stewards, maids, housekeepers and chauffeurs. Through the glass doors shutting off the service portion of the chateau I glimpsed five young women, French-speaking English maids and fair-haired ones of a girl 3,000 years ago who refused to marry the man of her parents' choice, and despite desperate opposition wedded the one she loved.

"So it is in a way," she smiled shyly—"history repeating itself. Sharmistha is a pretty name. I think. The 'hai' at the end means simply 'lady.'"

You will smile skeptically if I tell you the slim young highness from

If the Speaker of the House wants the last word, she wants The New President

The NEW President

$1685 f. o. b. factory

—and it's an Eight!

YARBROUGH MOTOR CO.

800-568 West Peachtree Street

AL MARTIN'S GARAGE, Inc.

181 South Pryor St.

DUFFELL MOTOR CO.

415 Peachtree St.

STUDEBAKER

Stops Pain!

AS Pure AS MONEY CAN BUY
The largest selling aspirin in the world for 10¢

The third partner

The third partner is an invisible but powerful one. He can take the place of you or your partner should death call.

It is not easy to find ready money when a calamity of this kind strikes a firm, but this third partner can produce it.

The third partner's name is Aetna Partnership Insurance.

AETNA-IZE

With
S. M. CARSON, General Agent
Aetna Life Ins. Co.
WAL. 2395 415 Grant Bldg.
Atlanta, Ga.

GEORGE SANDERS SERIOUSLY HURT IN AUTO RACE

Detroit, July 15.—(P)—George Sanders, LaFayette, Ind., winner of the 500-mile automobile race at Indianapolis two years ago, was seriously injured here today, when his car hurtled through the inner rail during a dirt track race. At a hospital where the driver was taken little hope was entertained for his recovery.

The accident occurred near the finish of the 100-mile race, which was won by Howard Taylor, Flint, Mich., with a front drive machine.

Sanders crashed into the rail on a turn in front of the grandstand after he had emerged from the pit where he had gone for repairs. The LaFayette youth was trying to make up lost mileage and was traveling at a terrific clip at the time. The machine turned over a dozen times and was demolished.

Only two cars finished the race. Taylor negotiated the distance at an average speed of slightly more than 73 miles per hour. The other finisher, Bud Marr, Detroit, trailed the winner by a lap.

Seattle (she is only 21) keeps house.

She insists she does.
"I don't cook or use a vacuum cleaner," she admits, "but I have personal charge—I have to—and I spend part of each day supervising the running of my house. I like it. Doesn't every woman long to housekeep? And doesn't she know things can't go right unless she keeps an eye on them?"

This was distinctly Nancy Ann Miller speaking, daughter of Dennis and Jack, and between you and me the maharajah usually slips off the Sharmistha and calls her Nancy. The name "Sharmistha," she tells me, comes from an ancient legend of a girl 3,000 years ago who refused to marry the man of her parents' choice, and despite desperate opposition wedded the one she loved.

"So it is in a way," she smiled shyly—"history repeating itself. Sharmistha is a pretty name. I think. The 'hai' at the end means simply 'lady.'"

You Have 18 Months to Pay for Home Furnishings Bought at High's

10% Cash—Balance Easy Terms

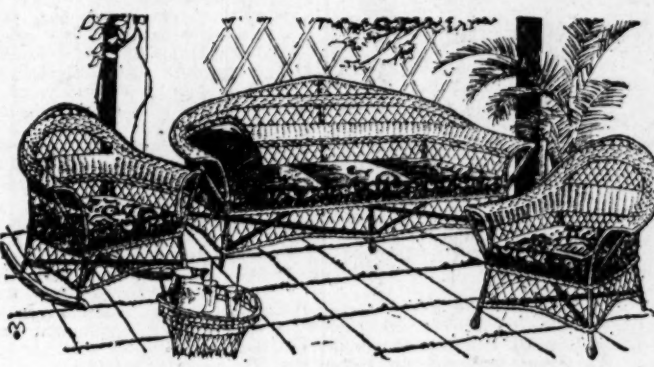

Choice 3-Piece Living Room Suites

8 Handsome Floor Sample Suites—Values $195, $225, $250

$15 Cash Will Be Sold at $159.50, $169.50, $195.00

From this exceptionally fine group of suites, you will be able to purchase exactly what you wish! Angora Mohair and Linen Raymure covered. Wood frame and Nachman spring filled cushions.

Easy Weekly Payments

3-Piece Fibre Suites $36.95 up

Monday our entire stock of charming fibre suites will go on sale at special clearance prices! The newest styles in newest colors! Come and choose from this fine lot!

HIGH'S FURNITURE STORE

Special Gas Range Set Up in Your Home $44.50

These splendid ranges are sure to give perfect satisfaction to every purchaser! Priced reasonably!

Couch Hammocks 25% Off

Attractive couch hammocks, with and without metal standards. Assorted styles. Offered on easy terms.

HIGH'S FURNITURE STORE

Sturdy Unfinished Kitchen Chairs $1.25

Crashes and Cretonnes

29c to 98c

Yard

Thousands of yards of beautiful, colorful crashes and cretonnes! New patterns—for draperies, slip covers, pillows, smart beach coats!

Cretonne Cushion Sets Were $1.79

$1.19

Seats and backs covered in fine cretonne! To be tied or tacked on! Pure white cotton filled and tufted with pretty buttons. Very special!

Inlaid Linoleums

Regular Price $1.75 Sq. Yd.

$1.49

Excellent quality inlaid linoleums in pretty tile effects! Mostly blues, browns, and greens! Offered at a price that makes buying real economy!

Fine Porcelain Table 25x40—Gray Legs $5.95

FINE RUGS

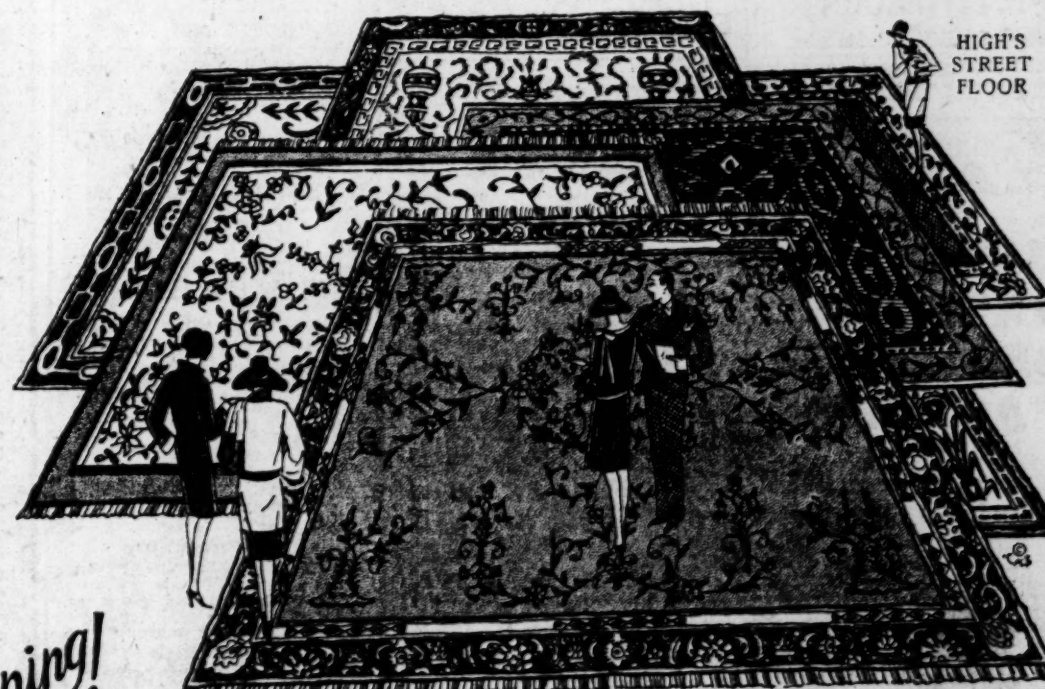

Both Velvet and Axminster

Sizes 8x10 and 9x12

Values $45 and $47.50

Everybody who is interested in home-beautifying! This is your chance to spread comfort, beauty and richness in your home! Fine velvet and Axminster rugs in charming patterns and colorings—offered at a splendid bargain price! Buy Monday at this price..

$34.50

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Top of the Morning!

J. M. HIGH CO.

45 Years of Faithful Service and Value-giving

FINE DIAMONDS FOR 41 YEARS

Correct Representation as to Quality and Value. Stylish Settings. Large Variety.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.

For 41 Years the Leading Jewelers of the South
111 PEACHTREE STREET
Established 1887

Bryan Grant Wins Southern Net Title for Second Time

Atlanta Wins Easily From Dan Murray

Only Three Sets Are Required by Young Ace To Annex Finals Match.

BY HORACE C. RENEGAR, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Boat Club, Louisville, July 15.—(AP) Bryan Grant, junior tennis star of Atlanta, sealed the heights of southern tennis supremacy today for the second time in two years—a sensitive racket responding to his light yet perfect touch to turn back Dan Murray, New Orleans.

The set count was 6-2, 6-3, 6-2, and it tells a true story of the margin between the little defending champion and his opponent, who himself held the crown in 1926.

Grant literally passed and lobbed his way to victory. The veteran Murray sought to use a game different to others who met the champion during the week. Instead of playing a back-court game wholly against Grant, he came in for a net attack and met with success in flashes. While some of the shots at the net went for points, he also suffered a number of errors. But the real cause of his failure in a net game was because of Grant's ability to pass him.

Holds Lead.

Grant would mix a lob with a fast one, and always held the lead.

Grant picked up a number of points by taking the ball within a few inches of the ground and returning it past his foe.

Only four double faults were scored in the match. Grant making three of them. In earned points, Grant held a safe lead, in contrast with yesterday when he defeated Donald Cram, Nashville, although Murray lost less earned points than the Vanderbilt star.

Although Murray lost in the singles, he came back teamed with Clifford Sutter in the finals of the doubles against Grant and Malon Courts, Atlanta, and the New Orleans pair won, 6-3, 6-5, 6-4.

Courts was badly off, losing numerous points for his team by failure to clear the net with returns.

Specimens of the extinct Labrador duck are rarer than those of the famous great auk.

It's Eighth Week!

Adding still another week to its record run!

See and Hear!

AL JOLSON

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

Horse Guards Take McPherson Four, 7-1

Fort Mac Quartet Misses Many Shots While Guardsmen Score Practically at Will; Count Evened.

BY FRED McEACHIN.

In a game of polo which was devoid of the usual thrill and excitement, the Governor's Horse Guards team bombarded the Fort McPherson's defense and charged to a 7-1 triumph over their ancient rivals at the fort Sunday afternoon before a large crowd.

By virtue of their victory over the Soldiers, the Guardsmen have once again evened the count, both outfits having won four contests and losing a like number. This 7-1 defeat administered the Infantrymen by the Guardsmen is the most drubbing which they have experienced thus far this season.

The cause for this downfall was very obvious. Lacking their usual teamwork and accurate thrusting, the Fort four seemed to be unable to hit the ball, especially when it was in the immediate vicinity of its own goal.

This was the prime factor in its humiliating downfall.

This win for the Horse Guards gives them a one-game advantage over their adversaries on the cups offered by local concerns for the winner of a three-game series. A victory for the Guards next Sunday and they will win permanent possession of the valuable trophies. It will be necessary for the Fort crew to defeat the Guardsmen in the next three games.

Guards Cohesive.

The Guards' quartet of experienced horsemen worked with uncanny union and their teamwork was above reproach. It was very apparent as the game progressed that they had the slight edge over their opponents.

In the initial chukker, Moran came through for the first score which gave the Guards a one-point lead, a lead which they were able to maintain throughout the entire game.

In the succeeding period neither outfit was able to penetrate for a score, the ball being kept in constant motion with the exception of time out for several fouls.

In the third period, Wesley Moran, of the Horse Guards, added another tally to his team's score when he thrust accurately for a goal. A few moments later in the same chukker, his teammate, Lawrence Parsons, penetrated the Soldier's defense for a successful drive.

With the addition of this tally, the Guardsmen's score was boosted to three while the Fort was unable to chalk up a single point.

As the teams resumed play after the half, Grant came back with his second goal, the Fort was unable to get the ball through the Fort's defense for another counter. During the first minute of play in the final period, Ray Love accounted for the seventh Guard score by an exhibition of neat thrusting.

Specimens of the extinct Labrador duck are rarer than those of the famous great auk.

It's Eighth Week!

Adding still another week to its record run!

See and Hear!

AL JOLSON

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

AL JOLSON

in

The Jazz Singer

A Vitaphone Presentation

MOTIVETONE NEWS

VITAPHONE ACTS

Yankee Bats Idle; Boxmen Go in Slump

Powerful Batting of Huggins' Crew Always Helps Pitching Staff.

BY GEORGE MORIARTY, Manager of the Detroit Baseball Club. (Copyright, 1928 by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

The batting and pitching slump of the Yankees is the latest proof that little can be taken for granted in baseball.

It is a fact throughout the country to believe the New York stalwarts the super-aggregation of all time, so when they meet two or three successive defeats to bashful new age.

A glance back through the early part of this month shows the Huggins' team batting at a lowly rate of .261 over a stretch of 10 games, and in the same period only Peinock and Hoyt were able to finish their games.

Commanding Lead.

For the last two years the Yankees have enjoyed a romping lead of 10 to 12 games after each race was fairly started.

These tremendous margins have given them a sense of superiority, yet their supreme confidence has been at least temporarily disturbed by the failure of their sluggers and pitchers to maintain a dominant pace.

St. Louis and Detroit played the Yankees to a standstill at the Yankee stadium. I have ways contended that superior pitching rather than heavy batting breeds confidence in a club.

The Yankees are the only exception. Their mauling activities spur their pitchers to greater heights, and their recent batting slump seems to substantiate this belief.

Urban Shocker, who parted from the Yankees a few weeks ago, has been the cruelest spilt pitcher of the entire flock, though not a greater spilt pitcher than Ed Walsh.

Walsh, in his prime, commanded the most potent bang fling of them all, and was exceptionally clever in keeping the delivery just above the batsman's knees.

Shocker has lacked the wicked break Walsh was able to give because he kept his spitter fairly high.

But nevertheless it has been difficult to hit.

made the stage show the Broadway success that it was. The vaudeville portion of the program is headed by Carl Freed, the eccentric orchestra leader who has the sanction of the Capitol.

Capitol.

The season's most sensational event featuring the greatest array of bathing beauties ever presented in one show will be the feature of the Capitol theater when M. Rich & Brothers company introduces a "Paseant of Beauty" with 20 Atlanta girls and six of the recent winners of the Galveston world-wide beauty contest.

The added stage feature will be "Hits and Bits of 1928." The screen feature will be Glenn Tryon in "Hot Heels."

Loew's Grand.

Another notable array of vaudeville talent will be seen at Loew's Grand theater headed by Joe Fajer and Gertrude Lang, who will be the feature of the show.

The events here the sanction of the Galveston world-wide beauty contest. The added stage feature will be "Hits and Bits of 1928." The screen feature will be Glenn Tryon in "Hot Heels."

Howard.

The Howard, in celebrating its semi-annual anniversary, is presenting what is said to be one of the greatest programs in its history. Three big headline features are on the bill which is headed by Gene Dennis, the Kansas boxer, who will be the feature of the show.

The events here the sanction of the Galveston world-wide beauty contest. The added stage feature will be "Hits and Bits of 1928." The screen feature will be Glenn Tryon in "Hot Heels."

Metropolitan.

It's truly a miracle picture now, for having weathered the storms of seven weeks in one city, Al Jolson's Vitaphone production, "The Jazz Singer," is to be seen and heard still another week in Atlanta, thereby adding another week to its record run at the Metropolitan.

Also on the program at the Metropolitan this week is Pat West and his musical blues, who are hailed as the syncretized blues artists, in melody of blues songs of national fame.

Rialto.

Babe Daniels, one of filmdom's foremost comedians, is star of "Hot News," a thrilling story of a news cameraman's life, which opens today at the Rialto theater in conjunction with a big-time Vitaphone vaudeville program and Motietone news. He is seen as the pretty young daughter of a newsreel magnate. She decides to enter the field herself, and with a camera as her only weapon, sallies forth to "scoop" the famous "Scop" Morgan, dean of cameramen.

Cameo.

In "Les Miserables," at the Cameo today the forces which might Jean Valjean have been well portrayed by M. Gabriol, who plays the difficult part of that powerful man. His finding of Cosette is one of the most touching and delightful things in Victor Hugo's story.

Tudor.

The Tudor theater opens today with "Aflame in the Sky," one of the best airplane pictures yet produced. Wild riding, mile in the air thrills, and hand to hand battles between heroes, are packed in "Aflame in the Sky."

Empire.

Patrons of the new Empire theater, corner of Georgia avenue and Broadway, will thrill and be amused over the strange adventures which befall a modern Lady Godiva, in "Gold Widows," the attraction today. Vera Reynolds and Harrison Ford are the stars.

Miss.

Formerly known as Lady With JIMMIE HODGES FOLLIES Entertaining All Week

The Ritz.

ATLANTA'S ONLY NIGHT CLUB

Plans Rushed On Welcome To Walthour

Interesting Program Is Arranged for Saturday at Lakewood Park.

With the time growing shorter, plans are progressing rapidly for the homecoming of Bobby Walthour, world's premier cyclist, Saturday afternoon at Lakewood park where an interesting program has been arranged including the appearance of Bobby in several special races.

Even with Frisch out, the Cards moved down the second place Giants three times in four attempts, and closed out the week with a lead of 5-1-2 games over the clan of McGraw.

Although the St. Louisians are only two games better than New York in the lost column, their position is strong. They have a great number of contests against the trailers to offset the disadvantage if any, of finishing on the road.

The Cardinals led both leagues in total hits, shading the White Sox by 92 to 91, and were well up among the leaders in average hits per game. They allowed their opponents only about four runs to a game, and made only five errors in eight engagements.

McKee's men also took first place in home runs for the week with nine, leaving the Yankees in the second place with six, the best mark in the American league.

Bues Cop Four Straight.

Pittsburgh won four straight games and extended its winning streak to six, but this pace would have to be repeated for a long time to get the Pirates anywhere. The Robins remained in the running with four out of five.

In the American league, the contented Yankees continued to take their games as they found them, apparently unwilling to apply any pressure in a runaway race. The champions could march into their third straight flag, in all likelihood, with an even break from this point to the finish, but such a feat would make nervous wrecks of Miller Huggins and Jacob Ruppert.

Kenney regarding Elkins, and the committee said it could take no further action until a report was filed.

The 300 athletes spent a quiet day today and were glad to get the rest. They have been working out daily on deck since the President Roosevelt left New York.

Ten of them were on the hospital list, although none was believed to be seriously injured except Leslie Beers, middleweight wrestler from the University of Iowa. Beers was hurt during a workout, and physicians said he probably had a fractured shoulder.

Elkins Off For Amsterdam.

New York, July 15.—(United News.)—Fait Elkins, decathlon star, will sail Monday on the S. S. Herengaria for Amsterdam to join the American Olympic team.

Elkins worked out today before officials of the Amateur Athletic union and convinced them that his leg injury would heal in time to allow him to compete in the Olympiad.

Braves Beaten.

Johnstown, Pa., July 15.—(AP) The Johnstown Middle Atlantic league club defeated the Boston Nationals, 4 to 2, in a seven-inning exhibition game here today. Shut out for four innings, the minor leaguers hopped on Clarkson's delivery for a run in the fifth and, bunching three hits in the next inning, scored three more.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Boston . . . 001 000 1—2 8 3 Johnstown . . . 000 013 4—5 1 Batteries: Clarkson and Spohrer, Cronin; Kleinsch and Thompson.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Pittsburgh . . . 4 0 24 45 4 9 1 St. Louis . . . 6 2 20 36 5 36 9 Chicago . . . 5 3 28 69 4 36 4 Cincinnati . . . 4 2 21 40 5 36 2 New York . . . 3 4 21 55 3 38 1 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Boston . . . 0 7 26 66 11 52 4

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago . . . 2 2 19 41 2 3 2 St. Louis . . . 6 2 21 40 5 36 9 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Washington . . . 2 5 30 56 10 29 1 Cleveland . . . 3 2 15 38 6 32 0 Detroit . . . 2 3 15 38 6 32 0 Cleveland . . . 3 13 45 54 0

CLUBS.

Pittsburgh . . . 4 0 24 45 4 9 1 St. Louis . . . 6 2 20 36 5 36 9 Chicago . . . 5 3 28 69 4 36 4 Cincinnati . . . 4 2 21 40 5 36 2 New York . . . 3 4 21 55 3 38 1 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Boston . . . 0 7 26 66 11 52 4

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago . . . 2 2 19 41 2 3 2 St. Louis . . . 6 2 21 40 5 36 9 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Washington . . . 2 5 30 56 10 29 1 Cleveland . . . 3 2 15 38 6 32 0 Detroit . . . 2 3 15 38 6 32 0 Cleveland . . . 3 13 45 54 0

CLUBS.

Pittsburgh . . . 4 0 24 45 4 9 1 St. Louis . . . 6 2 20 36 5 36 9 Chicago . . . 5 3 28 69 4 36 4 Cincinnati . . . 4 2 21 40 5 36 2 New York . . . 3 4 21 55 3 38 1 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Boston . . . 0 7 26 66 11 52 4

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago . . . 2 2 19 41 2 3 2 St. Louis . . . 6 2 21 40 5 36 9 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Washington . . . 2 5 30 56 10 29 1 Cleveland . . . 3 2 15 38 6 32 0 Detroit . . . 2 3 15 38 6 32 0 Cleveland . . . 3 13 45 54 0

CLUBS.

Pittsburgh . . . 4 0 24 45 4 9 1 St. Louis . . . 6 2 20 36 5 36 9 Chicago . . . 5 3 28 69 4 36 4 Cincinnati . . . 4 2 21 40 5 36 2 New York . . . 3 4 21 55 3 38 1 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Boston . . . 0 7 26 66 11 52 4

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago . . . 2 2 19 41 2 3 2 St. Louis . . . 6 2 21 40 5 36 9 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Washington . . . 2 5 30 56 10 29 1 Cleveland . . . 3 2 15 38 6 32 0 Detroit . . . 2 3 15 38 6 32 0 Cleveland . . . 3 13 45 54 0

CLUBS.

Pittsburgh . . . 4 0 24 45 4 9 1 St. Louis . . . 6 2 20 36 5 36 9 Chicago . . . 5 3 28 69 4 36 4 Cincinnati . . . 4 2 21 40 5 36 2 New York . . . 3 4 21 55 3 38 1 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Boston . . . 0 7 26 66 11 52 4

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago . . . 2 2 19 41 2 3 2 St. Louis . . . 6 2 21 40 5 36 9 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Washington . . . 2 5 30 56 10 29 1 Cleveland . . . 3 2 15 38 6 32 0 Detroit . . . 2 3 15 38 6 32 0 Cleveland . . . 3 13 45 54 0

CLUBS.

Pittsburgh . . . 4 0 24 45 4 9 1 St. Louis . . . 6 2 20 36 5 36 9 Chicago . . . 5 3 28 69 4 36 4 Cincinnati . . . 4 2 21 40 5 36 2 New York . . . 3 4 21 55 3 38 1 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Boston . . . 0 7 26 66 11 52 4

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago . . . 2 2 19 41 2 3 2 St. Louis . . . 6 2 21 40 5 36 9 Philadelphia . . . 3 2 19 40 4 36 2 Washington . . . 2 5 30 56 10 29 1 Cleveland . . . 3 2 15 38 6 32 0 Detroit . . . 2 3 15 38 6 32 0 Cleveland . . . 3 13 45 54 0

CLUBS.

Comfortable Lead Held By Cards in National

McKee's Gang Has Wide Margin Over Other Clubs; White Sox Make Spurt in American.

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, July 15.—(AP)—Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, the White Sox and the Browns monopolized the top places of the major leagues in games won and lost for the week ending last night, but the real thunder was furnished by the Cardinals, with a record of six won and two lost, the identical figure that tied the rejuvenated White Sox and the Browns for the top in the American league. The Cardinals ground down their opposition in such a manner that Bill McKee's once more is in a position to step into a lead comparable to that of the Yankees in

The Taming of Elizabeth

By WINIFRED BOGGS

SYNOPSIS.

The young Elizabeth is the adored daughter of Tim and Elizabeth Darcy. She is four years old and she runs away from home to avoid punishment for getting into mischief. She is brought home promptly by a neighbor, Miss Smiley.

At 12, Elizabeth runs away again, this time from school and to the home of her Aunt Dolly in London. Dolly, who is almost as flighty as the young Elizabeth, sympathizes with her niece, much to the irritation of her stepson, Stephen Wilby.

After the death of her parents, Elizabeth goes to live with her aunt. During the war they keep themselves busy and also amused by performing in amateur theatricals for the benefit of wounded soldiers. Stephen Darcy, who is asked by his stepmother to bring Mark Lennox, a young playwright, to one of their performances.

Shortly after the end of the war, Mrs. Wilby dies suddenly in Brighton and Elizabeth learns to her consternation that her aunt had left her the money left her by her husband, and also had disposed of some of Stephen's inheritance as well. Elizabeth decides to go to Mark Lennox in London and ask him to get her a job on the stage. Stephen finds her with Mark, and although he cannot do much for her since his business failed during the war, he offers to help her, but she refuses his help and advice.

They did neither. They read their part, numbing, anyhow, and seemingly not in the least interested. Yet the producer did not seem in the least astonished or disappointed. He told them that would do for the day, and never said a word of praise to Elizabeth, who knew every word of her part and delivered it in a clear, bell-like tone. Yet, Mr. Howard hardly seemed to listen or to know she was there.

It was too peculiar! Still, she would take care Stephen never knew things had turned out like this. "I shall tell him it was awfully thrilling, that I simply love being an actress and did best of them all."

She blushed, for she was half in love with the charming Mark, not in the least realizing that most of the women he knew were in the same boat. Even the sad Lydia had a smile for the dramatist, and the fat Clara obviously adored him, and had seemingly known him for years. In fact, everybody seemed to have known him for a long time. "I suppose they look upon me as a sort of newcomer and outsider," she smiled. "They little know."

Why, it was she who was going to outdo them all when the day came and the curtain went up on the great night of life: she who was to make the play and, incidentally, her own reputation known throughout the world! Others might fail, let down poor dear Mark, but she, never! The word was not in her vocabulary.

They walked home together and she was a little disappointed that he said nothing as to the way her performance had outdone all the rest. Her mouth began to droop and Mark wanted to laugh—she looked so much like a disappointed child.

"Well, what is it? Was the real Pod a shock? Your face was a study."

"Pod? O, is that Mr. Porchester's pet name?"

"The fact is, my child—hold on to something!—his real name is Esau Pod. His pet name is Esau Porchester."

"It can't be true!" cried Elizabeth, anguished. "It would be too awful!"

"Well, my infant, there are awful things in life as well as lovely things, shadow as well as sunshine."

"But think of the cleverness of the fellow! One cannot entirely bury one's self; there is always some one who knows and is tactful enough to use it, but when people hear him called Pod they just think it short for Porchester."

"His thick hair, his dashing ways, his eyes—"

"All he assumed on the night; he would look a day over thirty, I assure you."

"His clothes—"

"His tailors' masterpieces are kept for the stage. And what does it all matter? He can act and he has an enormous following."

"And knock knees and a stomach!" wailed Elizabeth. "I don't care now how much married he keeps on being!"

Mark laughed heartily. The young Elizabeth was a quaint amusement to him. "That won't prevent the bit of pouring in from flappers," he chuckled.

"O, flappers," said age and experience pityingly. "So absurd, aren't they? So ignorant of real life! What are you laughing at, Mr. Lennox?"

"I don't think you would be amused," he said.

"Laugh," exclaimed Elizabeth tragically. "How can one laugh about a thing like that?"

"Well, you shall laugh about me instead. When I was eighteen I adored a lady who now suggests marrying me to her charming granddaughter."

"He hasn't even any clothes on!" wailed the disillusioned to herself, whereby meaning that he was only attired in an old ill-cut suit, and that his linen was crumpled and soiled.

"And he hasn't got a figure, either!" For the real Esau Porchester was not tall, but distinctly stout, and even—O, horrors!—a trifle knock-kneed. Unwillingly she thought of Stephen's fine physique; the contrast was almost brutal. Stephen, so well groomed with his thick brown hair, his clear gray eyes; this man so sloppy, almost dirty, and with practically no hair at all. So he played the hero in a wig! His eyes were a little bloodshot and his face very yellow and lined. He looked all of fifty, and was in point of fact fifty-two. Why, the hero and first love of her youth looked not only a little dissipated but positively bilious. She had loved an elderly, bald, bilious, badly dressed bummer!

She blushed to think of it, and was glad to remember she had been quite young at the time and rather lacking in experience. Never again! She knew better now.

She waited for the caste to elyly repeat their lines and act their part.

INSTALLMENT XIII.

ELIZABETH PREPARES TO MEET THE PERFECT HERO.

Elizabeth went to her first rehearsal full of excitement; it proved everything she did not expect and nothing that she did. For instance, to take one particular, she expected to be the pivot of the show—had not Mark called her the pivot?—and she might have been almost a theatrical nobody for all the notice the others took of her. It was most disconcerting, and not in the least according to the rules of fiction. Then she was well dressed, the only well dressed one there, and after a casual glance they fell into little groups and discussions, ignoring her entirely.

Nobody could have been quieter than the great Lydia Marley. True, she had come in a taxi, where the others had come by tube, but she was almost dowdily dressed in an obviously old hat and costume. And that was not all. Where was the smiling vivacious youth and beauty Elizabeth had seen on the stage? Here was just a haggard woman with a rather sallow skin and a tragic mouth.

Elizabeth was naturally more interested in the men than the women, but she was thrilled to find that she and one of the smaller part actresses had an understudy between them. So she really was most important.

That was rather a nice looking boy talking to the fat woman; she was conscious of his interested eyes upon her. Possibly he realized what a very important part she had, while he might be one of the waiters in the night club scene, no part at all, really.

Then she heard the rumble of a car and her heart beat quickly; it was the great man arriving, her hero, the famous Esau Porchester. Real life was just what she had supposed it—thrilling and lovely in every way. Probably he would ask to be introduced to her at once, speak to her of her part, of the scenes they had together, why, they were colleagues; they might even become great friends.

Then he entered, and with a gasp of horror Elizabeth dropped into his chair. There must be some mistake; this could not be Esau Porchester! She simply could not bear it if it was, for it would mean that nothing was what she had supposed, and the whole world was hollow. Where was the handsome, magnetic hero, so tall, so noble, so elegant? Where the curly dark hair, the magnetic eyes, the wonderful thrilling voice? The perfect movements, the exquisite clothes? Where the youth, the vitality, . . . in fact, where was Esau Porchester, and what had he to do with this rather sloppy looking creature dropping into a chair with a grunt.

"He hasn't even any clothes on!" wailed the disillusioned to herself, whereby meaning that he was only attired in an old ill-cut suit, and that his linen was crumpled and soiled.

"And he hasn't got a figure, either!" For the real Esau Porchester was not tall, but distinctly stout, and even—O, horrors!—a trifle knock-kneed. Unwillingly she thought of Stephen's fine physique; the contrast was almost brutal. Stephen, so well groomed with his thick brown hair, his clear gray eyes; this man so sloppy, almost dirty, and with practically no hair at all. So he played the hero in a wig! His eyes were a little bloodshot and his face very yellow and lined. He looked all of fifty, and was in point of fact fifty-two. Why, the hero and first love of her youth looked not only a little dissipated but positively bilious. She had loved an elderly, bald, bilious, badly dressed bummer!

She blushed to think of it, and was glad to remember she had been quite young at the time and rather lacking in experience. Never again! She knew better now.

She waited for the caste to elyly repeat their lines and act their part.

Elizabeth went to her first rehearsal full of excitement; it proved everything she did not expect and nothing that she did. For instance, to take one particular, she expected to be the pivot of the show—had not Mark called her the pivot?—and she might have been almost a theatrical nobody for all the notice the others took of her. It was most disconcerting, and not in the least according to the rules of fiction. Then she was well dressed, the only well dressed one there, and after a casual glance they fell into little groups and discussions, ignoring her entirely.

Nobody could have been quieter than the great Lydia Marley. True, she had come in a taxi, where the others had come by tube, but she was almost dowdily dressed in an obviously old hat and costume. And that was not all. Where was the smiling vivacious youth and beauty Elizabeth had seen on the stage? Here was just a haggard woman with a rather sallow skin and a tragic mouth.

Elizabeth was naturally more interested in the men than the women, but she was thrilled to find that she and one of the smaller part actresses had an understudy between them. So she really was most important.

That was rather a nice looking boy talking to the fat woman; she was conscious of his interested eyes upon her. Possibly he realized what a very important part she had, while he might be one of the waiters in the night club scene, no part at all, really.

Then she heard the rumble of a car and her heart beat quickly; it was the great man arriving, her hero, the famous Esau Porchester. Real life was just what she had supposed it—thrilling and lovely in every way. Probably he would ask to be introduced to her at once, speak to her of her part, of the scenes they had together, why, they were colleagues; they might even become great friends.

Then he entered, and with a gasp of horror Elizabeth dropped into his chair. There must be some mistake; this could not be Esau Porchester! She simply could not bear it if it was, for it would mean that nothing was what she had supposed, and the whole world was hollow. Where was the handsome, magnetic hero, so tall, so noble, so elegant? Where the curly dark hair, the magnetic eyes, the wonderful thrilling voice? The perfect movements, the exquisite clothes? Where the youth, the vitality, . . . in fact, where was Esau Porchester, and what had he to do with this rather sloppy looking creature dropping into a chair with a grunt.

"He hasn't even any clothes on!" wailed the disillusioned to herself, whereby meaning that he was only attired in an old ill-cut suit, and that his linen was crumpled and soiled.

"And he hasn't got a figure, either!" For the real Esau Porchester was not tall, but distinctly stout, and even—O, horrors!—a trifle knock-kneed. Unwillingly she thought of Stephen's fine physique; the contrast was almost brutal. Stephen, so well groomed with his thick brown hair, his clear gray eyes; this man so sloppy, almost dirty, and with practically no hair at all. So he played the hero in a wig! His eyes were a little bloodshot and his face very yellow and lined. He looked all of fifty, and was in point of fact fifty-two. Why, the hero and first love of her youth looked not only a little dissipated but positively bilious. She had loved an elderly, bald, bilious, badly dressed bummer!

She blushed to think of it, and was glad to remember she had been quite young at the time and rather lacking in experience. Never again! She knew better now.

She waited for the caste to elyly repeat their lines and act their part.

Elizabeth went to her first rehearsal full of excitement; it proved everything she did not expect and nothing that she did. For instance, to take one particular, she expected to be the pivot of the show—had not Mark called her the pivot?—and she might have been almost a theatrical nobody for all the notice the others took of her. It was most disconcerting, and not in the least according to the rules of fiction. Then she was well dressed, the only well dressed one there, and after a casual glance they fell into little groups and discussions, ignoring her entirely.

Nobody could have been quieter than the great Lydia Marley. True, she had come in a taxi, where the others had come by tube, but she was almost dowdily dressed in an obviously old hat and costume. And that was not all. Where was the smiling vivacious youth and beauty Elizabeth had seen on the stage? Here was just a haggard woman with a rather sallow skin and a tragic mouth.

Elizabeth was naturally more interested in the men than the women, but she was thrilled to find that she and one of the smaller part actresses had an understudy between them. So she really was most important.

That was rather a nice looking boy talking to the fat woman; she was conscious of his interested eyes upon her. Possibly he realized what a very important part she had, while he might be one of the waiters in the night club scene, no part at all, really.

Then she heard the rumble of a car and her heart beat quickly; it was the great man arriving, her hero, the famous Esau Porchester. Real life was just what she had supposed it—thrilling and lovely in every way. Probably he would ask to be introduced to her at once, speak to her of her part, of the scenes they had together, why, they were colleagues; they might even become great friends.

Then he entered, and with a gasp of horror Elizabeth dropped into his chair. There must be some mistake; this could not be Esau Porchester! She simply could not bear it if it was, for it would mean that nothing was what she had supposed, and the whole world was hollow. Where was the handsome, magnetic hero, so tall, so noble, so elegant? Where the curly dark hair, the magnetic eyes, the wonderful thrilling voice? The perfect movements, the exquisite clothes? Where the youth, the vitality, . . . in fact, where was Esau Porchester, and what had he to do with this rather sloppy looking creature dropping into a chair with a grunt.

"He hasn't even any clothes on!" wailed the disillusioned to herself, whereby meaning that he was only attired in an old ill-cut suit, and that his linen was crumpled and soiled.

"And he hasn't got a figure, either!" For the real Esau Porchester was not tall, but distinctly stout, and even—O, horrors!—a trifle knock-kneed. Unwillingly she thought of Stephen's fine physique; the contrast was almost brutal. Stephen, so well groomed with his thick brown hair, his clear gray eyes; this man so sloppy, almost dirty, and with practically no hair at all. So he played the hero in a wig! His eyes were a little bloodshot and his face very yellow and lined. He looked all of fifty, and was in point of fact fifty-two. Why, the hero and first love of her youth looked not only a little dissipated but positively bilious. She had loved an elderly, bald, bilious, badly dressed bummer!

She blushed to think of it, and was glad to remember she had been quite young at the time and rather lacking in experience. Never again! She knew better now.

She waited for the caste to elyly repeat their lines and act their part.

(Continued tomorrow.)

JIMMY JAMS

I WANTA CLIMB THAT TREE BUT I'LL WAIT TILL THE DAY BEFORE SCHOOL OPENS 'CAUSE I DON'T WANTA FALL AN' DIE DURING VACATION—

Aunt Het

"I don't approve of ever" thing these modern girls do, but I'd rather see 'em cut up than to set around all day talkin' about the way a woman suffers."

(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

SALLY'S SALLIES

Reckless drivers aren't wreckless long.

NOAH NUMSKULL

FEET DO YOUR STUFF! AND NOW

BELOVED NOAH—IF WE HAD TO PASS AN INDIAN GRAVEYARD AT MIDNIGHT, WOULD POCAHONTAS?

DEAR NOAH—IF A MAN WENT TO WORK IN THE DEPOT, WOULD HIS WORK BE STATIONARY?

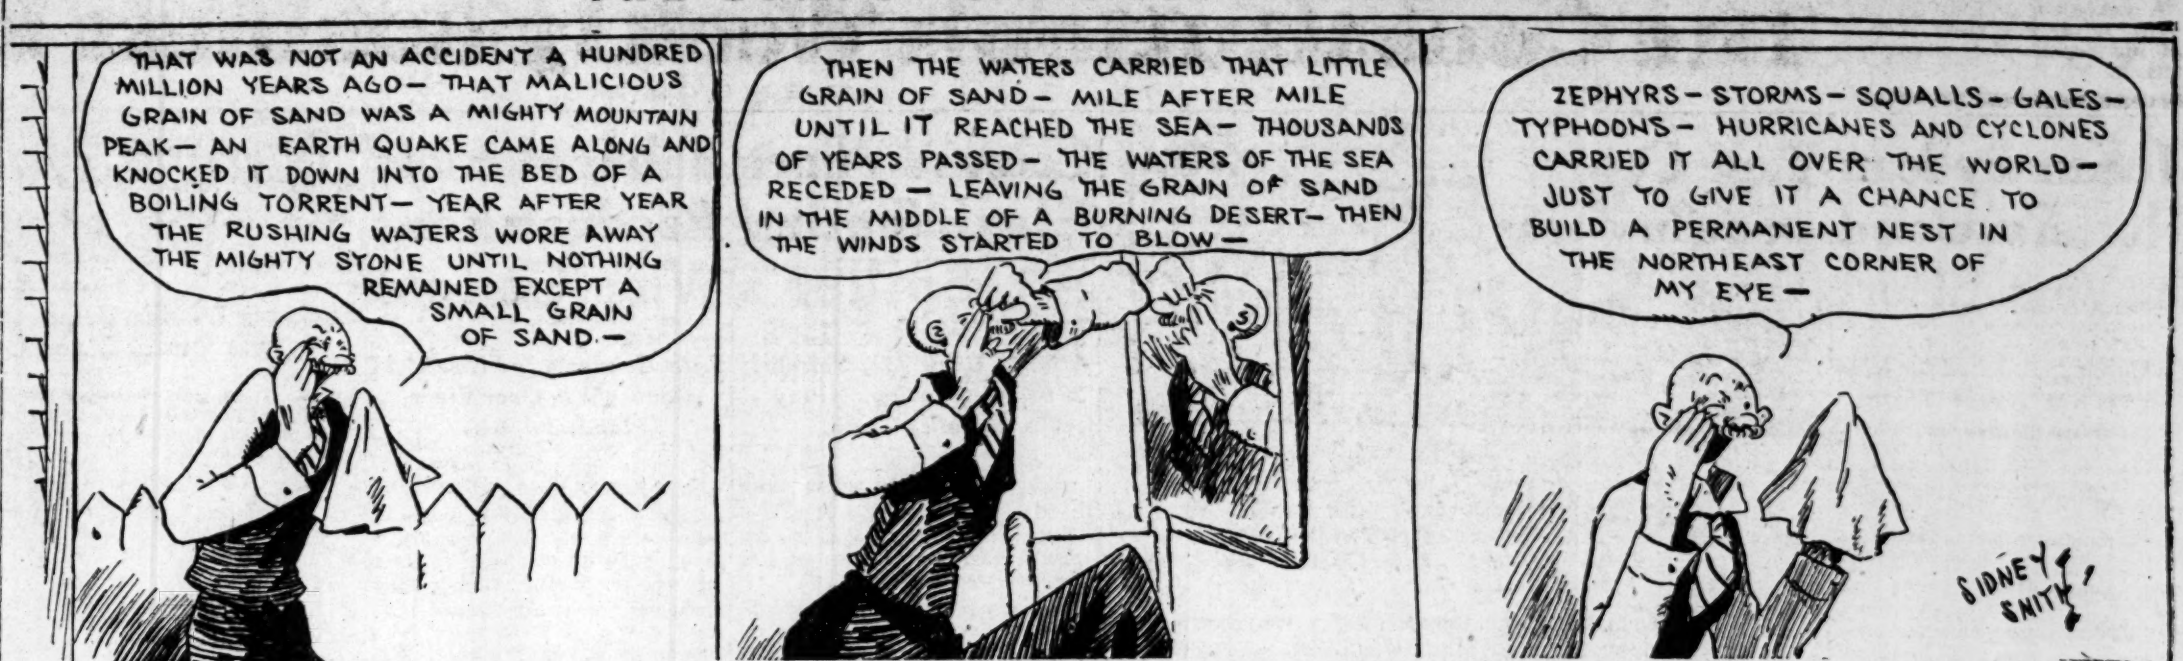

HOUSTON TEXAS

HOUSTON TEXAS

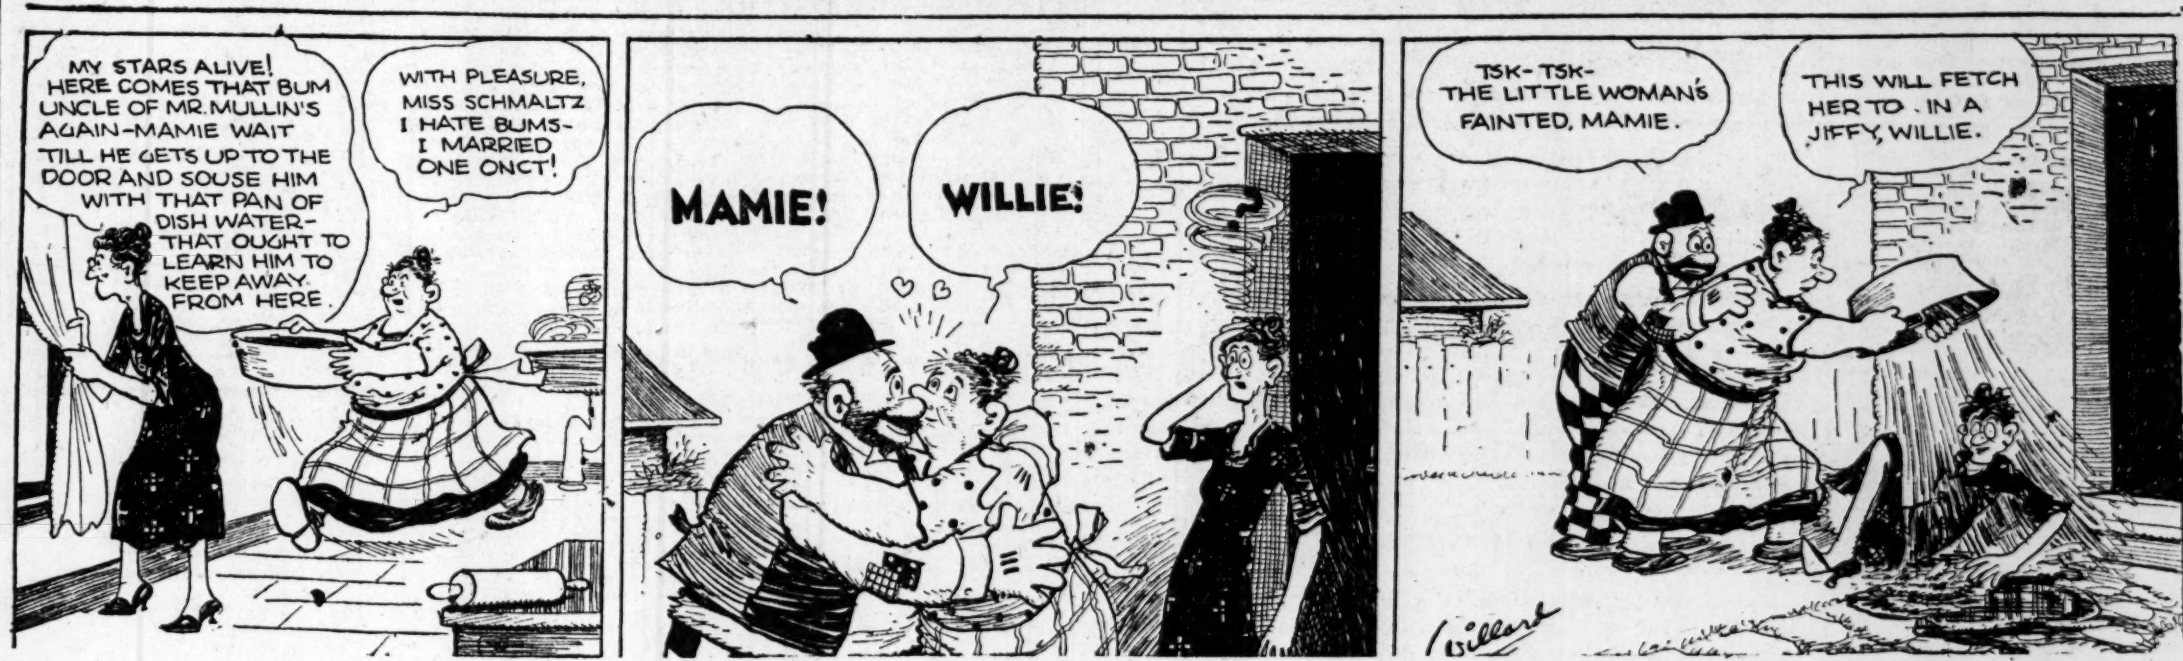

HOUSTON TEXAS

HOUSTON TEXAS

THE GUMPS—AIN'T NATURE GRAND?

MOON MULLINS—IT LOOKS LIKE THE MULLINS BOYS HAVE A NEW AUNT

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—The Girl With a Vision

GASOLINE ALLEY—RACHEL HAS RAISED DOZENS OF 'EM

Winnie Winkle,

The Breadwinner

Sights for Sore

Eyes

LITTLE

ORPHAN

ANNIE

Ruff Still at Large

The Constitution's Weekly Business Review

EDITED BY M. D. GLEASON

McKinney Mortgage Co. Reports Good Business

The mortgage loan, fire insurance and real estate business has been entirely satisfactory for the past 30 days, according to H. C. Baldwin, secretary and treasurer of the McKinney Mortgage and Investment company.

All indications are that the month of July will be the best month of the year so far. Sales in the amount of $300,000 have been made by H. C. Baldwin and H. F. Bailey, it was stated.

"We confidently expect to see the most active loan and real estate market for the next 60 days that we have experienced for some months," Mr. Baldwin declared. "During this period there will be several hundred families move into Atlanta and its suburbs to work at the various new industries and to take advantage of the splendid educational facilities offered by The New York of the South. These families will more than absorb the few vacancies that now exist in renting property and will create a good demand for this class of property as an investment, according to Mr. Baldwin."

Gibbs-Kendall Co. Protects Its Tires, Pleasing Its Patrons

"It's all in the customer's favor," says B. P. Kendall, of the Gibbs-Kendall Tire company, 73 Ivy street, N. E., "but we find it is good business to protect Brunswick tires for twelve months against any kind of road hazard."

STYLE-BILT AWNINGS

NOW SOLD ON A NEW PLAN THAT MEANS A SAVING OF 20 PER CENT.

Phone FX 1483-1484 for Representative
ATLANTA TENT & AWNING CO.
EAST POINT, GA.

INSURE YOUR INSURANCE

The simplest way to create an estate and assure your family financial independence is a Travelers Guaranteed Low-Cost Life Insurance Policy.

But it is not enough merely to insure. Let us insure the policy so that it will pay your wife an income of $100 or $200 a month as long as she lives instead of a lump sum for her to invest.

This makes sure that your life insurance will always provide her a living and will not go to some old stock promoter or advising friend who may unwisely invest the money for her.

P. H. COLLINS & CO., Inc.
1615 Healey Bldg. IVy 3516

PICKERT'S ENAMEL WARE

Durability, Beauty and Price. Backed by the strongest guarantee in the Southeast.

If your fixtures were purchased from us, we can supply 98% of repair parts from stock.

PICKERT PLUMBING SUPPLY CO.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
197-199 Central Ave., S. W. WAlnut 8169

'Headquarters for Building Material'

Washed Concrete, Brick and Plaster Sand; also WHITE SAND Screened and Graded Arrowhead Gravel and Basic Slag

Wall Plaster, Wall Board Metal Laths, Channel Iron, Etc. Texas Roofing Face and Common Brick CELITE for Concrete

Blue Diamond Machine Mixed Brick Mortar
ATLANTA AGGREGATE CO., Inc.
721 ANGLER AVENUE, N. E. Phone: WAl 5730—WAl 2829
"UNEXCELLED SERVICE"

For speed, service and satisfaction, use SOUTHEASTERN EXPRESS

MAin 0110 "The South's Own Express Company" MAin 0110

WILLIAMS OIL-O-MATIC

See the New Model J. You can have one installed in your home for small cash payment and twelve months to pay. Let us explain our plan to you.

NATIONAL PRODUCTS, Inc.
WAlnut 9272 471 Peachtree

6% Simple Interest

Loan completely paid off in 142 Monthly Installments. One commission covers entire period. Liberal prepayment privileges.

Reasonable commission. Prompt service.
ATLANTA TRUST COMPANY
Broad at Marietta

THE KRUEGER MANUFACTURING CO.

Manufacturers of HIGH-GRADE BANK FIXTURES
Store Fixtures, Hardware Interior Finish, Special Furniture, Etc.
1316 Lakewood Ave., S. E. Phone MAin 3849

C. E. ALLEN & CO.

(O. Ernest Allen) Notions—Toys—Dolls—Fireworks, Etc.
225 1/2 Mitchell Street Atlanta, Ga.

ROYAL BLUE COAL

High in Heat, Low in Ash From Mines to You

T. A. HINSON COAL CO.

601 McDaniel St., S. W. MAin 1833

GET YOUR NEW OFFICE SUPPLIES

NEWELL-THOMAS OFFICE EQUIPMENT CO.
Equipment Engineers WAl 0941
22-30 Walton St.

W. E. Bradley Co., Inc.

Dan Aubrey W. E. Bradley Authorized FORD SERVICE WRECKED BODY AND FENDER REPAIRING Service and Quality
WAl 9694

Body Building Blacksmithing Top and Seat Covers 130-138 Auburn Ave.

Duco Lacquer Finishes Phone WAl 9694

REFORM IN TAXES BY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT URGED

The Fitzhugh Lee camp No. 6, United Spanish War Veterans, meeting Sunday afternoon at camp headquarters, city auditorium, with H. D. Shaddeau presiding, unanimously endorsed the petition adopted by the endorsement in Augusta recently, urging tax reform by constitutional amendment. The petition will be forwarded to Governor L. G. Hardman, asking him to support and present its finding to the next general assembly.

It was decided to hold the annual outing of the camp on the third Sunday in August at Clarence B. Lindsay's home at Tucker, Ga. The outing will be in the form of a basket picnic and all Spanish war veterans, their wives and children will attend.

Armstrong Steam Traps

Self-Cleaning, Quick-Acting Dependable Operation
Sole Agent
BARRETT-WATSON CO.
35 So. Forsyth St. WAl 3182-83

Burford, Hall & Smith Power Plants and Power Plant Equipment Pumping Machinery

Phone WAlnut 8590
Red Rock Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

RITTENBAUM BROS. Manufacturers of Sanitary Wiping Cloths

472-78 Decatur St. WAl 7824 Atlanta, Ga.

WELDON ENGINEERS, Mechanical, Electrical, and Civil Engineers

8. Pryor St. and A. W. P. Ry. 576-78 Marietta St. ATLANTA, GA. IVy 4256

Superior Mattress Co.

835 Bankhead Ave., N. W. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED
One Day Service
Renovating Like New
Call HElock 9274
H. R. Simon, Pres. W. O. Broderick, Sec'y

WEATHERLY'S DIXIE GAS

"The Power to Pass"
Cor. Ivy and Baker Sts.

The Monarch Interlocking Self-Adjusting Weatherstrip

Save 1-3 of your fuel each season. Eliminate cold drafts and keep dust and dirt out in summer.

Guaranteed for Life of Building.
R. M. Callaway & Son
1177 W. Peachtree St., N. E. HE 0047

AUTO STORAGE

Night or Day Capacity 350 Cars
Washing, Doping, Repairing
CANN STREET GARAGE
17 Cain St., near Henry Grady Hotel—Phone WAl 9630

Goodyear Tires To Suit Your Income

offer prompt and courteous service

CONSOLIDATED TIRE STORES, Inc.

Spring and James Sts. WAl 9830

YORK'S RECREATION PARLOR

FINEST BILLIARD ROOM IN THE SOUTH
23 Rocket Billiard Tables, 4 Carom Billiard Tables, 20 Pool Tables, Soft Drinks.
117 N. PRYOR ST. Opp. Cadillac Bldg.
ROBT. L. YORK, Proprietor

Harvey Wharton Joins National Products Co.

W. M. Timmons, general manager of the National Products company, local representative of the Williams Oil-O-Matic Oil burners, announces that the concern has secured the services of Harvey Wharton, of San Francisco, to supervise all installations of Oil-O-Matics in this territory.

Mr. Wharton is recognized as one of the foremost oil heating engineers in this country, having helped develop the industry from the early days when crude oil was first burned in two pieces of flat pipe to make steam to propel boats.

The long experience of Mr. Wharton's covering nearly 30 years in the making, developing and installing of oil burners, means that the local branch of the Oil-O-Matic company has secured the best man to be had for the Atlanta territory, and during the short while he has been here it is already reflected in increased sales in this section.

In addition to domestic burners, Mr. Wharton has given much attention to industrial oil heating burners, having for years been called on from headquarters office to assist local heating engineers to solve their heating problems. He has installed these oil-burning heating plants for small bakeries where the finest of pastries were made and those large enough to run a big city's crematory burning plant.

Mr. Wharton is personally seeing to it that all installations of the Oil-O-Matic, and every buyer of these splendid labor-saving burners has the assurance that the burner he buys is placed in the home or industrial plant by a pioneer heating engineer. When he stamps his O. K. on a job as being complete the owner need have no further worries about his heating problems.

This local firm has just installed a new Model J and an American radiator red jacket boiler in its show and sample salesrooms at 471 Peachtree street, corner of Pine street. Mr. Timmons is extending a cordial welcome to all who want to forget about home or industrial heating worries to call and see the beautiful little burner perform wonders in heating any and all kinds of homes and buildings.

Mr. Timmons also announces that the company has been made state representative for the Enterprise Automatic Rotary Fuel Oil Burner of San Francisco. This burner is especially adapted for day and brick ovens, cement manufacturing, sugar refineries, dry cleaning establishments, laundries, bakeries, hotels, churches, schools, and other public and apartment houses. It is listed as a standard oil burner by the National Underwriter's Laboratories and New York Board of Fire Underwriters and Appeals.

Among some of the important features of this Enterprise Rotary oil burner are starting of fires instantly, easy regulation, no dirt, no labor, simplicity, no noise, small motor, interchangeable parts, safe motor enclosed, adjustable nozzle, fires over wide range adapted from kitchen range to big 300-horse power boiler.

Service Is Keystone That Built Large Envelope Co.

In this day of high-pressure selling methods, it is refreshing to chronicle the success of a company that sticks to the old-fashioned notion of "service" as the most satisfactory way of building and increasing business.

The Atlanta Envelope company, founded 35 years ago, has pursued such a policy with the result that it is now the largest manufacturer of commercial envelopes exclusively in the southeast.

Evidence of the service this envelope manufacturing institution is rendering is had from a letter written not three weeks ago by Alex McMillan company, prominent realtors of Knoxville, Tenn. The letter, addressed to the Atlanta Envelope company was as follows: "We thank you for your prompt attention to our order of June 19 for the 5,000 window envelopes which we received on the morning of June 20. Your service can't be beat in the largest manufacturing institution we are enclosing check to cover."

It is one thing to take envelopes off a shelf in a warehouse and ship them, and it is quite another thing to make up an order of envelopes fresh—print the corner card—and then ship the job complete within 24 hours. Let this be exactly what this big Atlanta envelope establishment does with regularity.

"When a customer requests speed," declared S. G. Gorman, the president of the organization, "we take it that he really needs the envelopes in a hurry. The line of least resistance might be to keep a lot of envelopes on hand already made up. Such is not our policy. We know that envelopes are needed from time to time to order, liver satisfaction, and accordingly we trust to our latest types of machinery and skilled workmen to produce the right kind of envelopes in the right kind of time."

According to officials of the Atlanta Envelope company, there has been an increasing demand this season for catalog envelopes of varying types. As a result, the Atlanta Envelope company has further expanded its facilities for turning out catalog envelopes and anticipates an unusually large business in this department for the balance of the year.

Musicians Union Declares War On Vitaphone Music

Chicago, July 15.—(AP)—A fight against the increasing use of Vitaphone and Moritone machines has been started by the American Federation of Musicians and the Chicago Federation of Musicians.

Joseph N. Weber, president of the national organization, in a communication sent today to the Chicago union said that approximately 200 theaters now are equipped with such machines and 1,000 more are planning to install them.

He said that he is not opposed to talking machines, because the union realizes the synchronization development in a genuine scientific achievement, but that if machines are used as a substitute for vocal and orchestral music they will "constitute a serious menace to cultural growth."

Unemployment among musicians has resulted in the ordering of all branches of the national organization to use every possible influence to stop the use of the machines. The union has a membership of 158,000.

DEAD BODY FOUND IN CAR; WOUNDED MAN IN NEAR DITCH

Detroit, Mich., July 15.—(AP)—The body of Peter Zeld, 20, was found by police in a bullet perforated car near here today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered at the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

A search was being made for the car's armal escort.

Corps Hides Money.

Paris, July 15.—(AP)—Francis Vergne, an honest citizen of Le Champ, thought that he could take it all with him when he died. He was known to be worth $60,000 but when his relatives began to look for the money it could not be found. As a last resort they searched the corpse and found everything in a fat wallet.

Need Tons in Canada

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 15.—(United Press).—R. J. Gilmore, professor of biology at Colorado college is gathering spade-foot toads for shipments to Saskatchewan, Canada, where they will be turned loose to destroy the larvae of mosquitoes.

We also sell: Buffalo-Springfield Steam and Motor Rollers.

YANCEY BROTHERS, INC.
634 Whitehall St., S. W. Telephone MAin 3964
Contractors' Equipment Caterpillar Tractors Road Building Supplies

The SYMBOL of Responsibility in Modern Heating Service Oil Heat

Local Dealer
Grant Gulf Heating Co.
410 Peachtree St. IVy 3047

NATIONAL WINDOW CLEANING CO. INCORPORATED GENERAL CLEANERS

Office Buildings, Offices, Stores, Factories and Dwellings Cleaned, Floor Scrubbed, Floors Gled and Waxed, Draperies Cleaned.
14 1/2 N. E. IVY ST. IVY 9286

LONG DISTANCE HAULING ZABAN

Storage Picking Packing Shipping
"Personal Serv."
18 Spring St., S. W. WAl 2701

Thoughtful People Remember Their Dead With Stone Monuments

Thoughtful people that think of their loved ones who have gone to the world beyond, occasionally go out to the scene of their resting place and with loving hands place flowers or some other token of esteem upon their mounds.

Where the graves in a cemetery are in a well-kept condition, it is a source of pride to not only the lot owners and cemetery association, but to visitors as well. But where graves are long since forgotten and no marker, be it ever so little, marks the last resting place of those buried there, the visitor comes away filled with sadness at the neglect of those who forgot their dead.

Surely if a family lost a member, it might at least put up a small upright or flat monument to let those passing by know that someone loved the dead enough to remember them when gone. Nothing has ever been more suitable to perpetuate the memory of those departed than marble and granite.

Atlanta is known as the center of these two building and memorial stones, and this city has several of the best monumental companies in the country. One of these, the Enterprise Marble company, of 475 Marietta street, is especially equipped to design and furnish the very simplest, small, flat inscribed stone to the most elaborately carved and expensive tombstone.

This firm is composed of A. J. Redd and E. E. Redd, men who have spent a life time in the study of design and workmanship of monumental work. They have surrounded themselves with an efficient organization of skilled workmen, and this, with their unlimited access to the best natural marble

The "Early Bird" Is The Man Who Uses The Air Mail

Time saved by this new service will mean money to you. Provide yourself with the special tri-color air mail envelopes. We have a complete line. Phone or write for samples.

Phone MAin 3370
ATLANTA ENVELOPE COMPANY
505 Stewart Ave., S. W.

J. W. LIETCH

260 Flat Shoals Ave.
The Autoist's Friend
Diamond Tires, Philco Batteries, Gasoline and Oils
Road Service
IVy 8859

SUNSHINE PEANUT BUTTER CO. INCORPORATED

Manufacturers and Jobbers of FINE CONFECTIONS
185 Peters Street

Cheerful and Refreshing

To wake up bright and cheerful in the morning is considered the test of good nature. But how can you expect the morning to bring smiles when you step on a hard and lumpy mattress? Our process of restoring will make your old mattress like new. All work sterilized.

DIXIE MATTRESS CO.

600 Edgewood Ave., N. E. IVy 9995

W. C. SPIKER & CO.

Structural and Architectural, Consulting and Designing Engineers
Established 1209
Forsyth Building, Atlanta, Georgia.
1421 Eagle Bldg., Birmingham, Ala.

12 WEEKS To Pay Brunswick Tires Philco Batteries

On the Same Easy Terms
Gibbs-Kendall Tire Co.
73 Ivy St., N. E. WAl 4414

BENSCOT WATER

From Benscot Lithia Springs, Austell, Ga.
The best water for organic disease, caused by uric acid. For sale everywhere.

PURA WATER CO.

100 Piedmont Ave., WAl 9320

Some People Win Where Others Lose In Identical Line

Every now and then we come across an illustration of what some one or woman can do with a product or location where other people have made dismal failures under the same circumstances.

Take such a common commodity as automobile gas. Harvey Weatherly, Sr., pioneer filling station man of Atlanta, picked out the dead corner of Baker and Ivy street on April 8, and notwithstanding that seven individuals and large firms had tried out this corner in the last four years and given it up as a losing proposition, Mr. Weatherly in his first 30 days sold over 15,000 gallons of gas and has started his second month to eclipse that amount.

Mr. Weatherly is featuring a new

There is hardly a need or a want that cannot be filled in Atlanta's stores and factories.

This Dixie Gas comes to Weatherly's pure and clean from the refinery, and is especially adaptive to southern climate. Its high gravity gives it a quick pick-up with more mileage to the gallon.

Mr. Weatherly knows the auto driver's desire to speed up at certain times, as well as his carbon troubles, and he has just added a new brand of gas known as Weatherly's Ethyl Gas that is being bought extensively by his customers. It promises to become popular when its good qualities are better known.

Due to Mr. Weatherly's long experience in the oil and gas game, his advice is always sought by car-owners who know that they are not getting right results in the gas or oils they have been using.

In addition to the gas and oil features, Mr. Weatherly has installed an efficient force of service men who have been with him elsewhere for years, and the car that is washed, polished or aligned at his station meets the approval of both Mr. Weatherly and the car owners.

When you re-roof, lay BIRD'S Roofing right over the old shingles!

—handled by—
MILLER LUMBER CO.
1171 Ridge Ave., S. W. MAin 3156

BEC PUNCTURE-PROOF TUBES —they satisfy—ask any user

Do not confuse Bec Puncture-Proof Tubes with any other so-called puncture-proof tube. Guaranteed 1 year against ordinary road punctures. Will make your casings run from five to ten thousand extra miles. Many dollars saved by their use. Plenty of good territory open for dealers.

J. C. WRIGHT
Distributing Co.
1026 Marietta St.
PHONE
HEm. 4470-4396—

TAX FREE GEORGIA BONDS and LOCAL STOCKS
J. H. HILSMAN & CO., Inc.
601 ATLANTA TRUST BLDG. ATLANTA, GA.

Are Your Investments Properly Diversified?
We will be pleased to make recommendations.
Bond Dept.
TRUST COMPANY OF GEORGIA
Atlanta

ODD AMOUNTS—$30,000.00
We have available immediately for First Mortgage Loans on real estate in Atlanta, Decatur, East Point and College Park $50,000.00 in odd amounts from $1,750.00 to $5,000.00, at current rate of interest. Appraisals made promptly.
McKINNEY MORTGAGE & INVESTMENT COMPANY
839 Hurt Building LOANS—REALTORS—INSURANCE WAlnut 5590

First Mortgage Loans MONEY IS MONEY
Some Borrowers Pay More Than Others for Same Money Consult Our Mortgage Department
Get a Loan Suitable to Your Requirements
HOME OWNERS SHOULD INVESTIGATE OUR TEN-YEAR LOANS
GUARANTEED BOND & MORTGAGE CO.
Established 1887
Wynne-Claughton Bldg. Tel. WAl 0996

AUSTIN BROS. BRIDGE CO. STRUCTURAL STEEL
FOR ALL PURPOSES
Reinforcing Rods—Bridges—Road Machinery
Offices and Plant Opposite Ft. McPherson
Atlanta, Ga. Telephone WEst 2200

Dependable Laundering and Dry Cleaning
PEERLESS LAUNDRY
Phone WAlnut 4-4-0-5

DECKNER-WILLINGHAM LUMBER CO. LUMBER—MILLWORK—SERVICE
WAl 6431 585 Wells St.

Troy Laundry WAl. 4908
CLEANING—DYEING

BUSINESS SERVICE

Rug Cleaning
RUGS cleaned by hand with Field's cleaning solution. Guaranteed not to injure the carpet. Satisfactory work. Back of rug. 150
Whitehall. IVy 4138.

Roofing, Gutters, Repairs
BEST materials, lowest price on roofing and repairs. Call J. E. Dumas. IVy 1017.
SAVE YOUR ROOF
The Standard Co., IVy 1137.

Screening and Repairing W. J. TUCKER—Building, screening and repairing. All work guaranteed. Main 1206-W.

Wall Papering
J. E. HALEY, WALL PAPER, 38
S. Peachtree St., IVy 6038.
J. L. BURNETT—Wall paper. Moved to 177 Whitehall street. Phone IVy 3834.
"Better Be Safe Than Sorry."

Window Shades, Cleaning, Repairing
LET US clean your window shades to look like new. Call FAirfax 1170-3.

Window and House Cleaning
GEORGIA WINDOW CLEANING CO.
Offices, Stores and Dwelling. Walnut 6459
NATIONAL WINDOW CLEANING CO.
GENERAL house and office cleaning.
Work guaranteed. IVy 2346.

EMPLOYMENT

Help Wanted—Female 32
LADIES—Learn beauty culture. Be your own boss. A few months time. You are ready for high position or your own business. Get started. Call IVy 1017.
STENOGRAPHER for credit department.
Large manufacturing concern. Long stable large, thoroughly experienced, required. 1019
Wynne-Claughton Bldg., 2nd floor, Atlanta.
TWO EXPERIENCED colored dishwashers.
Brown's Cafeteria, 60 Peachtree.
WANTED—Colored agents to work all over the state. This year. Salary $2500.00
plus $25.00 per week. Write manager, 410
Belling House building, 1500 Peachtree.
WANTED—Energetic women with attractive personality, willing to train under our instructions for doing business. $100.00 per week. Write to J. E. Dumas, 1170-3
Whitehall street, Atlanta.
WANTED—Experienced waitress at once.
Adams Cafe, 19 North Forsyth street.

Help Wanted—Male 33
OUR newspaper city print. $1.00 earning $200 weekly. National states and Oklahoma open. 254 Palmer Bldg., 10 to 12 a. m.
AGENTS WANTED—Men and women to sell educational books. $100.00 per week. Sales
Mgr. No. 2 Wall street, Atlanta, Ga.

DEFENDABLE MAN.
WANTED, by Chicago corporation, to act as district manager on a marvelous new mechanical invention recently patented and now being marketed on national scale.
The man we select for the Atlanta district must be reliable, energetic, and have experience in sales and have some mechanical experience so that he can explain our device.
To the right man we will give an exclusive contract and a district large enough that his earnings will be $10,000.00 to $20,000.00 yearly. You must be financially responsible and able to invest $1,000.00 for merchandise.
Give a brief history of what you have done in the past. Write or write for full details.
Mr. Shaw, General Manager, 307 N. Michigan, Chicago.

EXPERIENCED SALESMAN.
The man I want is in Atlanta. The man I want is 9 to 10 a. m. I have permanent work in a South Atlantic city. Call C. H.
Matthews, 70 Courtland St., S. E.

LIVE WIRE SELLERS.
Good money. 814
Thruway building, 1500 Peachtree.

FOUR live wire salesmen.
Good money. 814
Thruway building, 1500 Peachtree.

RIGHT MEN.
See E. L. Jones, 409 Southeastern Trust building, between 11 and 12
o'clock.

FREE BOOKS.
"How to Secure Accounting Positions." Write C. H. Bailey,
C. E. A. Hart, Boston, Mass.

LEARN BARBERING.
Special course and best tools $35. Terms $6 per week. Atlanta Barber College, 148 Mitchell street.

LARGE concern.
Has opening in local sales force for two young men between 21 and 25 years of age. No experience required.
As we have very few openings, we are making rapid advancement to men who can produce. Apply Sales Manager, 208 Red Rock Bldg.

MAN with small family.
To milk cows and drive Ford. P. O. Box, call Porter Ford Works.

MEN LEARN BARBERING.
and be your own boss. Get full information. Moler College, 21 Forsyth street, Atlanta.

MEN, work on train.
Call for advancement. Terminal Station, downtown, interstate Co.

ONE WILLING to work hard for an assured future, one having sales experience and
auto, a good opportunity. Write Mr. C. H.
Matthews, 70 Courtland St., S. E.

OPPORTUNITY for good salesman to sell
Frigitella, Columbia territory. Address
Brown Electric Company, Columbus, Ga.

SALESMAN with 3 to 5 years successful territory sales record, between 25 and 35 wanted to travel out of Atlanta. Good salary, with traveling expenses. 1019 Wynne-Claughton
Bldg., 2nd floor, Atlanta.

SALESMEN AND WOMEN.
A SALES connection with a future is open to a limited number who apply at once;
no contracting unlimited opportunity.
The best thing in Atlanta for salesmen.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

AFTER THE DESTRUCTION OF THEIR VILLAGE
ON THE WASHITA BY GEN. CUSTER, THE
CHEYENNE FLED TO THE NORTH. SHERIDAN SENT A STRONG FORCE IN PURSUIT, WITH THE RESULT THAT THE HOSTILES WERE BEATEN AND FORCED TO SUBMIT.

SHERIDAN'S SEVERITY AND ENERGY FRIGH-TENED THE INDIANS, AND THE NEIGHBORING TRIBES OF COMANCHES AND KIOUAS HASTENED
TO RETURN TO THEIR RESERVATIONS AND SUR-RENDER BEFORE THE BLOW FELL UPON THEM.

The Round-up of the Cheyenne.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

LATE IN 1869, WHEN A BLACKFEET BAND COM-MITTED OUTRAGES AND ESCAPED TO CANADA
WHERE THEY WERE SAFE FROM PURSUIT, SHERIDAN DECIDED TO PUNISH THEM BY STRIKING AT THEIR INNOCENT KINSMEN. IN JANUARY, 1870, COL. BAKER, ACTING ON INSTRU-CTIONS FROM SHERIDAN, ATTACKED A BLACK-FEET VILLAGE, AND IN THE FIGHTING NEARLY 200 OF ITS INHABITANTS WERE KILLED.

INDIAN AGENTS AND CIVILIANS DENOUNCED
THIS ACTION, AND ACCUSED THE ARMY OF TRYING TO WIPE OUT THE INDIANS. A BITTER
CONTROVERSY FOLLOWED. SHERIDAN'S POLICY WAS CERTAINLY HARSH, BUT IT BROKE THE DEFIANT SPIRIT OF THESE TRIBES, AND IN THE END BROUGHT PEACE TO THE FRONTIER.
TOMORROW—DISCOVERY OF GOLD IN THE BLACK HILLS.

EMPLOYMENT

Situations Wanted—Male 37
A SELECT LIST OF EXPERIENCED PRO-FESSORS HAVE REGISTERED IN OUR EM-PLOYMENT DEPARTMENT. They have been furnished with character references and good credentials. We only register good men. It will be to your interest to call Drummond's employment department. Waiting for you. 1019 Wynne-Claughton Bldg.,
2nd floor, Atlanta.

TWO EXPERIENCED colored dishwashers.
Brown's Cafeteria, 60 Peachtree.

WANTED—Colored agents to work all over the state. This year. Salary $2500.00
plus $25.00 per week. Write manager, 410
Belling House building, 1500 Peachtree.

WANTED—Energetic women with attractive personality, willing to train under our instructions for doing business. $100.00
per week. Write to J. E. Dumas, 1170-3
Whitehall street, Atlanta.

WANTED—Experienced waitress at once.
Adams Cafe, 19 North Forsyth street.

FINANCIAL

Business Opportunities 38
ADVERTISING BOOK MATCHES—World's finest line. Big opportunity. Full, part time. All merchants prospects. Biggest commission. Write Union Match Co., 1167 Broadway, New York.

WILLING STATION—2 blocks from Georgia Institute of Tech. for sale. $1000.
Call J. E. Dumas, 1170-3 Whitehall street, Atlanta.

FOR "Business opportunities" call the GEORGIA BUSINESS BROKERS, 411
Belt Road, Atlanta.

FOR SALE—Small manufacturing business in the growing dairy industry. Wonderful opportunity. Priced right for quick sale.
Owner lives out of city and can not look after this business. Address E-20, Constitution.

GOOD paying well established small profitable business, located in down-town section of Atlanta. For sale at a sacrifice. Can be operated by man or woman. S. E. K.
Kirkwood, 1500 Peachtree.

WANTED—High class man capable of investing $50,000 to $100,000 to become treasurer of corporation, headquarters in Atlanta; operating in business from which he would earn $40,000 yearly. For conference write Box 1000, Atlanta.

YOU NEED MONEY—

CASH FOR THAT GROCERY
STOCK YOU HAVE. CALL WAL-NUT 4427.

Investments, Stocks, Bonds 38-A

WE have worked out a plan by which a net income of $30 per month can be assured you on an investment of $1,000.
No stock, no inconvenience. A responsible
Georgia corporation can make this possible
for you. If you are interested write C-13,
Constitution.

Loans on Real Estate 40
CUMBERLAND REALTY & LOAN CO.
Wynne-Claughton Bldg., 2nd floor, 1500
Peachtree.

FIFTEEN-YEAR LOAN, 6%
Trust Company of Georgia, Walnut 1071
514 and 528, 10th street, Atlanta.

FOR OTHER automobile, furniture, piano and indorsement loan ads see classified display.

FIRST MORTGAGES MADE

AND Purchase Money Notes Bought.
1204 Citizens & Southern Bank Building.
IF YOU WANT quick mortgage money on your home, call Mr. George P. Moore, 315
Hayes Bldg., 1500 Peachtree.

LOANS on real estate. Funds to loan on any property. Write Mr. C. H. Bailey, C. E. A.
Hart, Boston, Mass.

MEN, work on train. Call for advancement. Terminal Station, downtown, interstate Co.

ONE WILLING to work hard for an assured future, one having sales experience and
auto, a good opportunity. Write Mr. C. H.
Matthews, 70 Courtland St., S. E.

DISAPPEARING MORTGAGES

THINK OF IT—$100 per month per month includes principal and interest.
No stock, no inconvenience. A responsible
Georgia corporation can make this possible
for you. If you are interested write C-13,
Constitution.

JEFFERSON MORTGAGE COMPANY, INC.
60 Broad St., N. W.
Walnut 0815.

JUST LIKE RENT.

MORTGAGE LOANS, Insurance, McKinney
Mortgage & Investment Co., Hurt Bldg.,
2nd floor, 1500 Peachtree.

OVERSEAS INSURANCE AGENCY, INC.
211 GRANT BLDG., 1500 PEACHTREE.

REAL ESTATE—We have money on hand to make loans at current rates. Address
Rogers & Co., 1500 Peachtree.

Loans Up to $300 at 3 1/2% 40-A ATTRACTIVE LOANS.
JEFFERSON LOAN SOCIETY.
211 GRANT BLDG., 1500 PEACHTREE.

BORROW on your diamonds, lowest rates strictly confidential. 32 Broad St., S. W.

FOR OTHER automobile, furniture, piano
and indorsement loan ads see classified display.

WANTED—Divers, colored, for charcoal dredging. Must know city and come well recommended. Address E. L. Jones, 409 Southeastern Trust building, between 11 and 12
o'clock.

WANTED—Contract saw-mill man. We furnish outfit and timber. All conditions favorable. In reply, state experience, detail and references. Address "MILLMAN," P. O. Box 807, Cedar-town, Ga.

Teachers Wanted 35A

EXPERIENCED art and music supervisors public schools, $1,000.00. 205 Palmer building.

Situations Wanted—Female 36
EXPERIENCED registered nurse desire position in doctor's office preferably. Address E-18, Constitution.

PRACTICAL nurse with references. Walnut 0850, Address E-18, Constitution.

STENO-BOOKKEEPER—Young woman, neat appearing, pleasing personality, qualified by experience for responsible position. Address E-18, Constitution.

STENOGRAPHIC work, 7 years office experience, local and national, will substitute. Walnut 0078.

Situations Wanted—Male 37

COLORADO chauffeur wanted. Can give reference. Phone WBt 971.

FROM BIRMINGHAM Office Services, Walnut 4108, when serving officials, capable of every help.

PRINTER—First-class, wants job at once.
Worked at last $20.00 per year. References furnished. E-24, Constitution.

LIVE STOCK

Dogs, Cats, Other Pets 47
BABY parrots, monkeys, canaries, lovebirds, puppies, kittens, pigeons, hamsters. Pet land, 284 Peachtree.

Dogs boarded, nice cool, shady run. Debar-born 2087.

PERSIAN kittens, beautiful, reduced $12.50
(assorted colors); also cats. Petland, 284
Peachtree.

SNOUTS for terrier puppies, beautifully marked, 35 Saunders St., N. E., Kirkwood.

LIVE STOCK

Dogs, Cats and Other Pets 47
THOROUGHLY pedigreed Boston terrier puppies, 487 Capitol avenue, S. W.

MERCHANDISE

Articles for Sale 45
ANTIQUE CIGARS—Jacob's Sales Co., 45
41 Decatur street, Walnut 2576.

BARBERS in used samples of new adding machine and McKeaskey account register and proof safe, Atlanta Sales-book company, Phone Walnut 0092.

Rooms and Board

Rooms With Board 67
28 PEACHTREE PLACE—Single, double rooms, steam heat, semi-private home.
Hemlock 4138.

901 HIGHLAND VIEW—Attractive room, connecting bath, private home, gentlemen.
Hemlock 3810-2.

680 PIEDMONT AVE.—Victory Georgian bath, home cooking, business men or women.
Hemlock 3810-2.

311 POND DE LEON—Double room, connecting bath, gentlemen, splendid meals.
Walnut 2485.

ATTRACTIVE room, adjoining bath, adjoining front; pleasant home. Hemlock 4235.

ATTRACTIVE West Peachtree home, comfortable room, desirable location, garage. Hemlock 4235.

ATTRACTIVE bachelor apartment, reasonable rates; all modern conveniences.
Apply 21 Harris street, N. W., next door
Central City club.

COOL, corner room, private home; garage with shower; twin beds; garage.
Hemlock 4138.

DRUID HILLS—Front room, adjoining bath; gentlemen; business couple; garage. Debar-
born 2087.

GATE CITY HOTEL—142 Forsyth street, S. W.
Clean, outside rooms, $2.50 to $5.00.
Harris St., N. W., 7-5. Rooms, $3.45 week.
Hemlock 4138.

LARGE comfortable room, adjoining bath,
gentlemen only. Peachtree. Hemlock 3105.

MIDTOWN HOTEL—Large, clean, comfortable room, running water, bath, electric fan, $12.50-$15.00. Better rates permanent guests. IVy 1802.

NORTH SIDE—Large, east corner room, second floor, owner's private home, only adults in family; all conveniences.
Hemlock 4138.

NORTH SIDE—Nice furnished room, connecting bath, near Piedmont park and Central City club. Hemlock 4138.

NORTH SIDE—2 nicely furnished rooms, all conveniences. Reasonable. Hemlock 4138.

NICELY furnished room for rent; meals optional; private home. 761 Cascade
Bldg., 1500 Peachtree.

POND DE LEON SECTION—Attractive room, adjoining bath, twin beds, gentlemen only. Hemlock 4138.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT—Large room, with bath, walking distance.
IVy 3811.

65 ELEVENTH ST., N. E.—Nice room for one person, well located. Hemlock 0630.

149 THIRD ST., N. E.—Between Juniper and Peachtree. Phone Walnut 2800.

NEWLY RENOVATED ROOM, 608 W. 10th
ST., N. W. Call 0847.

USED OFFICE FURNITURE.
WE offer a large lot of miscellaneous
used office furniture, including desks, chairs,
safes, files, etc., at low prices.
HORN'S OFFICE FURNITURE COMPANY,
89 North Pryor street.

Barber Supplies 52-A

"MEMORIZE IT" It pays to buy from B. & B.
60 Forsyth, R. W. Walnut 1888.

Plumbing Supplies 53A

Wholesale and retail; buy direct, 101
Central, S. W. Pickett Plumbing Supply Co.

Business and Office Equipment 54

TYPEWRITERS—We sell, rent and repair all makes. See our list of typewriters and other office equipment. Phone Walnut 2800.

NEWLY RENOVATED ROOM, 608 W. 10th
ST., N. W. Call 0847.

USED OFFICE FURNITURE.
WE offer a large lot of miscellaneous
used office furniture, including desks, chairs,
safes, files, etc., at low prices.
HORN'S OFFICE FURNITURE COMPANY,
89 North Pryor street.

Coal & Wood 54a

KIRKWOOD COAL CO.
Phone FA for Summer Prices.
COAL, COKE. Debarborn 1700
"More Heat Per Shovelful." IVy 4406.

Household Goods 59

AIR-WAY SANITARY SYSTEM—A complete home-heating device. Ask for demonstration. 178, 420 Trust Co. Bldg., DETRIT. Low cost gas heat. Perfect control. $1.50. 9-piece dining room suite. $150.00. 11-piece bedroom suite, springs and mattress. $150.00. On larger terms if desired. Phone Mr. McCarthy, 621
N. Highland, N. E.

GOOD used furniture cheap at 414 Edward. Vittur Transfer & Storage Co.

LITTLE ANTIQUE SHOPPE has very nice and lovely and low priced. 508 Spring St.
decks, dining chairs, 508 Spring St.
SINGER, White sewing machines, furniture, linens, etc. 150, 152 Forsyth, S. E.
Walnut 7919.

STOVES, furniture bought and sold. Repair all kinds stoves, gas, electric. Binkley shop, 215 Peters St. Atlanta 4208.

Musical Merchandise 62

PIANO—Baby grand piano, mahogany,
Nipper. Carder Piano Co., 27 Pryor, N. E.

GOOD hand and orchestra instruments.
Inexpensive. Inexpensive. Write us.
Ritter Music Co., Atlanta.

VICTROLAS—Excellent condition, slightly used. Terms. Binkley, Inc., Walnut 5776.

Wanted to Buy 66

B. BERNARD pays cash for used house furnishings. Phone IVy 4000.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR HOUSEHOLD GOODS. A. AUERBACH,
Walnut 0780.

BOUDBOLD GOODS bought by Central Auction company, 10-12 East Mitchell,
Walnut 9780.

WANTED—Wood packing cases. Must be in good condition and with Phone
West 2500.

WE PAY highest price for men's and ladies' old clothes. Main 5411-2.

ROOMS AND BOARD

Rooms With Board 67
ATTRACTIVE room, sleeping porch, connecting bath, excellent meals, references.
Pond de Leon avenue.

ATTRACTIVE room, sleeping porch, connecting bath, excellent meals, references.
Pond de Leon avenue.

ATTRACTIVE room, adjoining bath, three excellent meals; by week or month. 603
Piedmont, Walnut 0631.

ATTRACTIVE room, sleeping porch, connecting bath, excellent meals, references. 171
Pond de Leon Ave., Walnut 8205.

LOVELY vacancy for young lady. 411
Pond de Leon Ave., Walnut 8205.

LARGE front room with private bath, excellent meals, references. 881 Peachtree street.

MOST desirable location, attractive room, connecting bath, excellent meals, references.
Hemlock 4138.

NORTH SIDE—Room adjoining bath, gentlemen or business people. Hemlock 4138.

NORTH SIDE—Beautiful front room, private bath and single room, owner's home. Conveniences. Good meals. Desirable location. IVy
0029-W.

PEACHTREE section, cool front room, connecting bath, excellent meals, references.
Hemlock 0538.

ROOM and board for lone laboring man near Chevrolet plant. Main 1721.

SPECIAL RATES FOR SUMMER, COLLEGE MEN. 404 PEACHTREE, ROOMS, BOARD,
IVy 0544.

SUITE—2 rooms, bath, delightful location, references. Main 2308. 378 Pond de Leon.
Two girls in private home, all modern conveniences. $20 month. Hemlock 7806-W.

TWELFTH ST.—Single or double rooms, 2 meals, all conveniences. Hemlock 4079.

THE BROADWOOD

1009 PEACHTREE—Nicer furnished room room, adjoining bath, for family or couple with children, excellent meals, references.
Hemlock 4428.

THE SHERIDON—Homey home; all conveniences. 304 W. Peachtree, N. W., IVy 8204.

WEST END—Gentlemen or business couple;
good meals; desirable environment. West 2107-3.

WEST END—Attractive room, running water, splendid meals, every convenience.
West 2404.

Apartment Unfurnished 74A

BEAUTIFUL 4-room apartment, with bath, private home, excellent meals, references. Call J. E. Dumas, 1170-3 Whitehall street, Atlanta.

WATERBURY Bldg., 1500 Peachtree, 2nd
floor, 1500 Peachtree.

WATERBURY Bldg., 1500 Peachtree, 2nd
floor, 1500 Peachtree.

WATERBURY Bldg., 1500 Peachtree, 2nd
floor, 1500 Peachtree.

Sunmer Resorts 79A

WATERBURY Bldg., 1500 Peachtree, 2nd
floor, 1500 Peachtree.

WATERBURY Bldg., 1500 Peachtree, 2nd
floor, 1500 Peachtree.

WATERBURY Bldg., 1500 Peachtree, 2nd
floor, 1500 Peachtree.

WATERBURY Bldg., 1500 Peachtree, 2nd
floor, 1500 Peachtree.

REAL ESTATE FOR RENT

Apartment Unfurnished 74A
KNOX apartment, No. 1200 Peachtree street (near Pershing Point), a corner apartment of five rooms, No. 47, 470; also four-room apartment, No. 45, $62.50.
1548 PEACHTREE ROAD apartments (at intersection Spring street), apartments from four to six rooms. Priced from $40 to $55.

VIRGINIA apartments, 1250 Peachtree street (at 12th St.), five rooms and open front porch. $45.00.

1408 W. PEACHTREE STREET, at Pershing Point, four rooms and open front porch. $45.00.

705 W. PIEDMONT AVENUE (near 7th street) apartments (from two to four rooms) from $30.00 to $50.00.

1140 PIEDMONT AVENUE (at 14th St.)
four rooms and open front porch, apartment. $45.00.

THIRTEENTH, 2788 Peachtree street, four rooms and open front porch, electric refrigerator, most beautiful apartment in the city.

ALL of the above apartments are located in first class condition, and are open for inspection. For further information, call J. E. Dumas, 1170-3 Whitehall street,
Atlanta, or write to J. E. Dumas, 1170-3
Whitehall street, Atlanta.

REAL ESTATE FOR RENT

Suburban for Rent 80
MARITIME car line, 25 minutes ride; 3 rooms, lights, water. IVy 3808.

Wanted to Rent 81
WANTED to rent 5 or 6 room cottage in Morristown district, call unit 4 p. m.
Debarborn 3678.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

Brokers in Real Estate 84
ADAMS-CATES CO., Walnut 5477
A. GRAVES sells houses, lots, income property and farms. 55 Auburn avenue.

ATLANTA TRUST COMPANY—Real estate department, 20 North Forsyth street.
BURDETTE REALTY CO.—We negotiate any kind of real estate transactions.
F. P. & G. MORRIS,
104 N. Pryor St., Capital City Trust Co.
GUARANTEED BOND & MORTGAGE CO.,
Rents, Leases, Sales and Finance.
Wynne-Claughton Bldg., Walnut 0696

Farms and Lands for Sale 83

FARM LAND SPECIALIST—Thos. W. Jackson, 1008 Fourth National bank building INVESTMENT.

GEORGIA FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

LANDS in the tobacco belt of south Georgia are now in the line of immediate sale. We have for sale the following farms, sixty per cent of which will grow the best grade of tobacco. Every farm has good improvements and a number are in cultivation; 5,000 acres at $5.00 per acre; 10,000 acres at $4.00 per acre; 15,000
acres at $3.00 per acre; 20,000 acres at $2.00 per acre; 25,000 acres at $1.50 per acre; 30,000 acres at $1.00 per acre; 35,000
acres at $0.75 per acre; 40,000 acres at $0.50 per acre; 45,000 acres at $0.25 per acre; 50,000 acres at $0.10 per acre; 55,000
acres at $0.05 per acre; 60,000 acres at $0.02 per acre; 65,000 acres at $0.01 per acre; 70,000 acres at $0.005 per acre; 75,000
acres at $0.002 per acre; 80,000 acres at $0.001 per acre; 85,000 acres at $0.0005 per acre; 90,000 acres at $0.0002 per acre; 95,000
acres at $0.0001 per acre; 100,000 acres at $0.00005 per acre; 105,000 acres at $0.00002
per acre; 110,000 acres at $0.00001 per acre;
115,000 acres at $0.000005 per acre; 120,000
acres at $0.000002 per acre; 125,000 acres at $0.000001 per acre; 130,000 acres at $0.0000005
per acre; 135,000 acres at $0.0000002 per acre;
140,000 acres at $0.0000001 per acre; 145,000
acres at $0.00000005 per acre; 150,000 acres at $0.00000002 per acre; 155,000 acres at $0.00000001
per acre; 160,000 acres at $0.000000005 per acre;
165,000 acres at $0.000000002 per acre; 170,000
acres at $0.000000001 per acre; 175,000 acres at $0.0000000005 per acre; 180,000 acres at $0.0000000002
per acre; 185,000 acres at $0.0000000001 per acre;
190,000 acres at $0.00000000005 per acre; 195,000
acres at $0.00000000002 per acre; 200,000 acres at $0.00000000001 per acre; 205,000 acres at $0.000000000005
per acre; 210,000 acres at $0.000000000002 per acre;
215,000 acres at $0.000000000001 per acre; 220,000 acres at
$0.0000000000005 per acre; 225,000 acres at $0.0000000000002
per acre; 230,000 acres at $0.0000000000001 per acre; 235,000
acres at $0.00000000000005 per acre; 240,000 acres at $0.00000000000002 per acre; 245,000 acres at $0.00000000000001
per acre; 250,000 acres at $0.000000000000005 per acre; 255,000
acres at $0.000000000000002 per acre; 260,000 acres at $0.000000000000001 per acre; 265,000 acres at $0.0000000000000005
per acre; 270,000 acres at $0.0000000000000002 per acre; 275,000
acres at $0.0000000000000001 per acre; 280,000 acres at $0.

SMITH OPPOSITION URGED BY UPSHAW

Speaking in opposition to the candidacy of Governor Al Smith for the presidency, William D. Upshaw, dry advocate and former democratic congressman from Georgia, Sunday night before a packed house at the Baptist Tabernacle, declared "If I must choose between Smith and Hoover, I'll vote a hundred times for Hoover, and if that be treason, let the democratic leaders make the most of it."

Declaring that despite disfranchisement threats of Smith supporters in Georgia Tammany would lose Georgia if the election were held tomorrow, Mr. Upshaw said that the governor was not a southern democratic candidate but a "Tammany product."

Urging the republican party and its candidate, Hoover, for endorsement by southern democratic voters, Mr. Upshaw declared that all objections to the republican party having to do with the racial question should be abolished. "This is a white man's government down south, and always will be," he declared.

"There is no negro committeeman in Georgia, and there never will be again," he declared.

While he declared that he "resented the charge that real Americans would deny to any man the right of religious freedom," the speaker told his audience, "No man who takes his orders from Rome shall ever sit in the American white house."

The speaker said that "we are not leaving the democratic party, but as it has been said, we are just making a necessary detour around the Tammany quagmire and the Al Smith mudhole. We who are going to scratch the Tammany candidate in order to keep our conscience on top are not leaving our party, but if our party goes off and leaves us standing by the constitution of our country, the detour responsibility must fall upon those who have made this unconstitutional excursion."

Mr. Upshaw's subject was "Under Which Flag—The Moral Side of the Presidential Campaign—Against Al Smith and Why?"

He made reference to his recent debate on prohibition with Clarence Darrow in Atlanta, stating that "When I beat him arguing, he beat me acting the monkey."

Mrs. Marvin Williams, president of the Georgia Woman's Christian Union, presented the speaker to the audience. Singing by the audience of "America" and the "Star-Spangled Banner" preceded and anteceded the speaker's address.

Radio Lease Renewed.

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—The war department has renewed for a year the lease of the radio plant on the Fort Monroney, Ala., military reservation. It is held by the Tropical Radio Telegraph company, of Boston.

TWO YOUNG WOMEN AND MAN ARE HELD IN ROBBERY CASE

Picking up two girls on a downtown street in his automobile Sunday afternoon, C. P. Parks, of 622 Simpson street, told city detectives that he carried them to Hunter and Hill streets, where a male friend of his passengers held him up with a gun and robbed him of $40.

Nellie Blasengame, 21, of 451 Whitehall street, and Billie Taylor, 19, of 363 Marietta street, alleged to be the women mentioned by Parks, are being held by police along with John Sheehy, 21, of 313 Hill street, who is said by Parks to be the man who robbed him.

The two women told City Detectives R. E. Whitley and D. E. Blair that Parks met them at a downtown hotel. Parks said that the women approached him on a downtown street and asked him to take them to a restaurant at Hunter and Hill streets, where the brother of one of them worked.

When they arrived, Parks said, Sheehy came out of the restaurant and drawing a gun on him, took $40 out of his pocket. The women got out of the automobile and drove off with Sheehy, he said.

PILOT, PASSENGER KILLED IN PLANE CRASH AT TAMPA

Tampa, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—O. G. Stone, a pilot, and a passenger, were killed when a biplane crashed into the water at Tampa Bay Sunday afternoon.

Stone was flying a biplane from Lakeland, Fla., to Tampa. The plane was carrying Stone and a passenger, Mrs. Victoria Mateo, of Tampa. The plane crashed into the water about 100 feet off the shore. Stone and the passenger were killed. The plane was carrying Stone and a passenger, Mrs. Victoria Mateo, of Tampa. The plane crashed into the water about 100 feet off the shore. Stone and the passenger were killed.

Witnesses said that Stone was giving Mrs. Mateo driving lessons. It is not known who was at the controls at the time.

Mortuary

JAMES R. RICHARDS, 65, died Saturday night at his home, 107 East avenue, N. E. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Ida, a son, Cliff, of Villa Rica, and two sisters, Mrs. A. M. Hill, of Whitesburg, and Mrs. Mary Wilkins, of this city. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this morning at the residence with Rev. J. W. Caldwell, Jr., officiating. Interment will be in a Whitesburg cemetery.

100 Bathers Drown.

Vienna, Austria, July 15.—(AP)—The heat wave in Austria has been responsible for a great increase in the number of bathing casualties. Since July 1 more than 100 bathers have been drowned in Austrian rivers and lakes.

BROOKLYN BUILDER IS BELIEVED SLAIN

Freeport, L. I., July 15.—(United News.)—The mutilated body of an unidentified man was found in undergrowth 300 feet from the New Bridge road today.

John Sheridan, a farm hand, found the body. The head had been in a bag and the lower part of the body in another bag. The skull was crushed.

A card, found in one pocket, was addressed to William F. Gilbride, 1249 Ocean avenue, Brooklyn. Apparently the man had been robbed.

Sheridan said he had heard groans near the spot where the body was found on Saturday night, but had not investigated.

Investigation disclosed William F. Gilbride, 52, a builder and contractor of 2537 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, had been missing since Friday. He had about $300 cash on his person when he left home.

Mrs. Julia Gilbride and her two daughters left immediately for Freeport to attempt to identify the body.

A rope, knotted expertly, bound the hands of the dead man and an apron and a handkerchief were bound around the head. Police said the man's face had been punctured several times with a knife.

Strangulation and a crushed skull were given as the cause of death. The sacks probably were tied over the head and legs before the victim died, the police said.

GOWER FUNERAL IS HELD SUNDAY; HUNDREDS ATTEND

Lawrenceville, Ga., July 15.—A crowd conservatively estimated at 250 people attended the funeral of Sam Gower, who was electrocuted at Marietta Friday for the murder of James Bonfield, farmer, near Decatur last December.

The funeral was held at Ebenezer church, 10 miles southeast of Lawrenceville at 11 o'clock Sunday, and Gower was buried by the side of his first wife.

One hour and 10 minutes was consumed in people viewing the remains, they having come from all sections in a 40-mile radius. Gower is the second white man executed for murder in Gwinnett county in the last half century. Rev. C. P. Ewing and Rev. Martin A. Still officiated. Eustus Holland had charge of the singing by request of Gower at the time he received his second sentence for the crime.

MRS. ANNIE KYZER DIES AT RESIDENCE OF HER DAUGHTER

Mrs. Annie Beazley Kyzer, well-known as a resident of Atlanta, died Saturday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Johnson, 932 Virginia circle. Mrs. Kyzer was born in LaFayette, Ky., January 22, 1863. She was a descendant of the Beazley, Goodwin and Clay families, prominent in the annals of Kentucky history, being a direct descendant of Henry Clay.

Mrs. Kyzer was formerly a resident of Hopkinsville, Ky., and had spent many years of her life in Tennessee. She also had traveled extensively, spending many of her winters in Florida.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Hopkinsville, Ky. Mrs. Kyzer is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Harry Johnson and a granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, both of Atlanta; two nieces, Mrs. A. M. Dodge, of Lake Worth, Fla., and Mrs. R. N. Gaines, of Hopkinsville, Ky., and a nephew, Dr. H. C. Beazley, of Hopkinsville, Ky. Funeral services and interment will be in Hopkinsville, Ky., Tuesday.

$12 Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

$12 Myrtle Beach, S. C.
Tickets good 10 days. On Sale July 12th, 19th and 21st. Through Reapers. GEORGIA RAILROAD.—(adv.)

Big lot of good USED BRICK CHEAP. Must be moved.

CALL IVY 1268

CITY COAL CO.

The South's Largest and Finest Dry Cleaners and Dyers

Are Responsible For The Cleaning You Give Your—

NEIGHBORHOOD "SANITARY" CLEANERS AND DYERS

No matter what you wish cleaned—the most delicate fabric or the largest rug—your neighborhood "Sanitary" Cleaning Shop offers you through the Sanitary Dry Cleaning Company the finest service and utmost satisfaction.

WORKMANSHIP OF YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD "SANITARY" SHOP IS GUARANTEED BY THE SANITARY DRY CLEANING COMPANY

Look for the "SANITARY SIGN" in your neighborhood Pressing Shop

FOR SALE

Flat newsprint paper suitable for small publishers and job printers. The price is right.

P. O. Box 1731, Atlanta, Ga.

Men Who Shot John Zink Pay Victim Visits

John Zink, 21, of 1048 Capitol avenue, who is at Grady hospital rapidly recovering from gunshot wounds received recently when he was shot by mistake, Sunday received the second visit from one of his assailants.

E. L. Griffin, who was released Friday under $2,500 bonds and J. R. Griffin, released Sunday under similar terms, both made visits to Zink at the hospital to express their regret over the shooting.

Zink gave both visitors a friendly greeting and listened patiently to their explanations. Authorities have indicated, however, that the trio will be prosecuted regardless of the attitude that Zink or some other person.

The three men who did the shooting have indicated that they have had more than enough of attempts at "homemade justice" and hereafter will not resort to gun play.

Detectives have conducted a vigorous search for Griffin and Mrs. Heath since the night of the shooting but with no results as yet and it is now believed that they have left the state.

RESOLVE OF RAOLD AMUNDSEN DISCREDITED

Continued from First Page.

Chukhovskiy (Russian aviator aboard Krassin) saw us, despite our frantic signals.

Without Food 12 Days.

"For 12 days we didn't eat anything. Mariano felt death approaching. He begged me to place his body aboard the plane after death should the flyer land. Upon seeing the Krassin, Mariano regained his ebullient life."

The Italia crashed May 24, the account from Professor Samoilovich as related to him by Zappi went on. Thick ice formed on the dirigible and she sunk earthward, head first. When the gondola struck the ice the passengers were hurled out and the motorist was killed and buried in the ice by his companions.

Chukhovskiy and his crew were freed from the gondola. The dirigible continued, and rose skyward into distance soon to explode and burst into flames. The wreckage of the dirigible was only heard others send. On May 30 Malmgren, Mariano and I went in the direction of Cape Nord hoping to meet Norwegian traders taking provisions."

ICE BREAKER KRASSIN PROCEEDING CAUTIOUSLY. Moscow, July 15.—(AP)—The Russian ice breaker Krassin reported by wireless today that she was proceeding cautiously in dense fog in an effort to locate the unrescued group of the Italia crew as well as Captain Roald Amundsen and his crew.

The Italia group sought in the Alessandri group and there are supposed to be six men in it. Captain Amundsen had five companions with him when the French seaplane in which they were winging their way northward to the rescue of Noble and his crew disappeared June 18, after leaving Tromsø, Norway. Included in this party was Lieutenant Lief Dietrichsen, Norwegian arctic explorer, and Captain Rene Gilbaud, noted French pilot.

If the Krassin is unable to make her way through the ice fields and fog it is thought by the Russian relief committee here that she will return to a point near Cape Pinen and pick up the Russian and Chukhovskiy and his crew. The relief committee still is receiving telegrams of congratulation from the group of the Italia crew rescuing the Vigliani group and the "walking party" of Mariano and Zappi last week.

CLOUDY WEATHER DUE IN ATLANTA, SAYS FORECASTER

While thunderstorms are slated for southern and central portions of the state today, clouds are all that are scheduled for Atlanta, it was forecast Sunday night by the national weather bureau in Washington.

Sunday saw a day of surcease from the sudden thundershowers which ruled over the city for the last few days in Atlanta. Temperature Sunday ranged from a low of 72 to a high reading of 85 degrees.

TOLBERT N. LESTER SUCCUMBS SUNDAY

Athens, Ga., July 15.—(Special.)—Tolbert N. Lester, one of the most prominent and influential farmers of Clarke county, and known throughout this section of the state, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Taylor, at College Park, Sunday night.

Mr. Lester was a large landowner in Clarke county and one of the most successful farmers in the entire state. He was 80 years of age at his death, and was a member of a pioneer Georgia family.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. W. P. H. Epps, Madison; Mrs. J. L. McElroy, Athens; Mrs. Lione Tate, College Park, and Mrs. Arthur Taylor, College Park, and two sons, W. P. Lester, New York city, and C. B. Lester, of Athens.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday morning at 11:30 o'clock from the Mount Zion church, near Athens. Interment will be in the churchyard.

BIG RUM SUPPLY SEIZED IN HOME; ONE ARREST MADE

One hundred and ten gallons of whiskey and one prisoner are being held at police headquarters today as a result of the activities of Detectives Martin, Leathers and Stinson in and near the residence of J. W. Hindman at 1033 Cleburne avenue Sunday afternoon and night.

The officers report shows that they had been watching the residence for some hours when Mr. Hindman and his wife, a 1-year-old son, drove away in the direction of Forrest road. Following the automobile the detectives overhauled it after a chase of several blocks and found in the car a gallon can of whiskey which they charged Hindman was delivering.

Taking the man and his family back to house they entered and found five gallons under a stairway in the home. While they were making their search Hindman escaped through a cellar door. After searching the garage where they found 104 more gallons the raiders returned to headquarters with the contraband and the woman and the boy.

Some hours after the officers returned to the station house Hindman surrendered and is being held on charges of violating the state prohibition law while his wife and son were allowed their liberty.

Lodge Notices

Atlanta Lodge No. 20, Knights of Pythias, will hold a regular convention on Monday night, July 16, at 8 o'clock, in the Castle Hall, top floor Forestry building. All qualified local and visiting Knights cordially invited.

M. B. BOLLEN, C. C. A. A. CRAIG, K. R. S.

The regular meeting of the following club of Capital City Lodge will be held at the lodge room, 423 1/2 Marietta St., Monday night, July 16, at 8 o'clock. All brethren are invited to meet with us.

M. P. DOWDY, Pres. G. A. BLACK, Secretary.

PRIVATE LOANS
On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell, High Howell, Arthur Howell, W. P. Bloodworth, Mark Bolding, Herman Herman

HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
505 to 520 Connally Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
478 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

WOODSMAN SLAIN BY IRATE FARMER

Galesburg, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—A death drama with all the earmarks of a Kentucky feud was enacted at Cameron, 10 miles southeast of here, today when Curtis G. Bates, farmer and township magistrate, shot and killed Chester Burnett, 38, woodsman, and seriously wounded his brother, Clifford, 32.

The shooting followed a quarrel over ownership of a pile of wood left after railroad ties had been cut from it. The Burnetts leased the timber land from Bates and established a camp to cut the timber. Bates and the Burnetts both claimed the "slab," the remains from the logging operation, according to neighbors who witnessed the killing.

Bates, accompanied by his three sons, went to the camp this morning to get a mule. Noticing a truck near the "slab" and inferring that the Burnetts meant to dispose of the wood, Bates told them they were to leave it alone until the law could decide.

Don Starke, a neighbor, said that Chester Burnett used abusive language toward Bates. Then he started toward the owner of the land with a club. Bates retreated, saying, "I'm going to get my gun and the sheriff and then you watch out," according to Starke's story.

He went home, called Sheriff Porter, of Monmouth, and with his gun went back to the timber. Returning from his home a mile away, he advanced toward the slab on either side of which the Burnetts stood.

He fired once at Chester, killing him instantly, witnesses said. The next bullet was directed at Clifford and struck him in the hip. Then Bates dropped his weapon and awaited the sheriff.

Witnesses assert Chester was armed with an axe and Clifford with a wrench.

CALIFORNIA FEARS PEACH PRICE WAR BY CANNER GROUPS

San Francisco, July 15.—(United News.)—The shadow of a peach "price war" hung over the orchards of California as members of the special committee appointed by Governor C. C. Young and representatives of commercial and cooperative canners prepared for a vital meeting here Tuesday.

Authorities agreed that only

GOOD SPACE—LOW RENT

Five to thirty thousand sq. ft. upper floor space in the heart of Atlanta's retail shopping district, served by elevator; has all conveniences; immediate possession can be had; five-year lease at reasonable rental. Very desirable for retail purposes, light manufacturing, loft space or bulk office space. Ask for Henry H. Robinson.

ADAIR REALTY & LOAN COMPANY

Healey Bldg. Realtors. Walnut 0100

MORTGAGE LOANS

5 1/2% to 8%

on all classes of

ATLANTA REAL ESTATE

Inquiries Solicited

WEYMAN & CONNORS

(Established in 1890)

58 Marietta St. Walnut 2162

SOCIAL ENGRAVING

Wedding Invitations—Announcements

Calling Cards

Monogrammed Notepaper

See exquisite samples in our salon of engraving or call WA. 4600 for representative.

loote & davies co.

"Five Seconds from Five Points"

Printers :: Lithographers :: Engravers

Lowest Commission Charges for

5 1/2% and 6%

Real Estate Loans

Additional funds provided as a second mortgage when desired

HAAS & HOWELL

Haas-Howell Bldg. Phone WA. 3111

LOANS ON

INDORSEMENTS

Loaned to individuals and business or professional persons who can furnish satisfactory references. Interest 8% a Year.

No investigation fee, or other expenses. Loans closed promptly.

SOUTHERN SAVINGS AND INVESTMENT CO.

380-381 ATLANTA TRUST CO. BLDG. WALNUT 3300

J. G. BURKHARDT, JR., President J. B. DICKIE, Secretary-Treasurer

FIRST MORTGAGE LOANS 5 1/2% AND 6%

We Also Make Second Mortgage Loans and Buy Mortgage Money Notes

MERCHANTS & MECHANICS BANKING & LOAN CO.

Grant Bldg., Forsyth St. WALNUT 8915

RICHARDSON, JACKSON & DAVIS

Certified Public Accountants

MEMBERS AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ACCOUNTANTS

1421-1425 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

W. B. Smith, Inc.—Mortgage Loans

Business and Residence Loans, 5 1/2 to 6%—Second and Monthly Loans

35 Walton Street—Ground Floor Healey Bldg.—Walnut 5381

5 1/2% INTEREST